WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Roosevelt declared today that Russia's invasion of Finland was a "profound shock" to the United States and jeopardized "the rights of mankind to self government."

In a formal statement read to a press conference, the chief executive said all peace loving peoples would "unanimously condemn this new resort to military force as the arbiter of international differences."

Statement in Full
The President's statement in full follows:

The news of the Soviet naval and military bombings within Finnish territory has come as a profound shock to the government and people of the United States.

Despite efforts made to solve the dispute by peaceful methods to which no reasonable objection could be offered, one power has chosen to resort to force of arms.

It is tragic to see the policy of force spreading, and to realize that wanton disregard for law is still on the march.

All peace-loving peoples in those nations that are still hoping for the continuance of relations throughout the world on the basis of law and order will unanimously condemn this new resort to military force as the arbiter of international differences.

Small Nations Jeopardized

"To the great misfortune of the world, the present trend to force makes insecure the independent existence of small nations in every continent and jeopardizes the rights of mankind to self government."

The people and government of Finland have a long, honorable and wholly peaceful record which has won for them the respect and warm regard of the people and government of the United States."

Before the press conference the President asked Russia and Finland to pledge before the world that they would refrain from bombing defenseless civilians and unfortified cities.

Mr. Roosevelt's plea was made public shortly after Hjalmar J. Procopé, the Finnish minister told newsmen that the Soviet warplanes had dropped bombs on Helsinki and other communities in Finland—all of which, he said, were unfortified.

Procopé said he had received

DEWEY ENTERS G.O.P. CAMPAIGN

Tosses Hat in Ring for Republican Presidential Nomination

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey today formally entered the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Replying to a declaration of a group of state party leaders that he could carry this "pivotal state," Dewey told them he would be glad to make the fight.

These leaders just had opened a Dewey headquarters in a ceremony which included the reading to Dewey by J. Russell Sprague of nearby Nassau county of the manifesto calling upon Republicans generally to work to bring about a Dewey nomination.

Responding, the young district attorney said:

"I appreciate this support for the nomination next year and I will be glad to make the fight. I have confidence in the Republican party, which has always stood for good government and stable business."

"Today, its responsibility is to re-awaken hope in a nation which is driven almost to despair by incompetent government and unstable business."

Salem Hi-Y Members Off to Conference

Lee Willman, William Hoch, Mike Nicora and Theodore Ursu of the Salem High School Hi-Y club, accompanied by Herbert Jones, club sponsor, left this afternoon for Youngstown where for the next two days they will attend the 38th annual Ohio Hi-Y conference.

Registration opened at the Youngs-Y. M. C. A. although the various discussion groups were scheduled to be held in South High school building.

The general theme of the conference is "Christian Ways in a Democracy."

Principal speaker at the sessions will be Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, educator and lecturer who was a speaker in Salem today. Rev. Russell Humbert of Akron and Albert H. Heinz of Cincinnati, as song leaders, also are on the program.

Worship service will be in charge of Canton, Columbus and Cincinnati Hi-Y chapters.

The local club will sponsor a dance for Salem High school students tonight in the High school gym. The Sultans of Swing will play.

Awaits Pardon

Among Ohio penitentiary prisoners ruled eligible for release today by the state parole board is Benjamin Ingledue, sentenced from Columbiana county on a charge of assault with intent to rape. His pardon will be effective Nov. 1, 1940.

Two Mahoning county prisoners also were paroled. Frank Bender, forger, on May 1, and Ben Brown, cutting down with intent to wound, on July 1.

Below Normal Era Is Seen By Copeland

Weatherman Fears Present Month Will Be Real Wintery

A misty Dec. 1 arrived today on the heels of a month of fine November and accompanied by a prediction from L. H. Copeland of Millport, U. S. district weather observer, that the present month would have a below normal temperature and precipitation above normal. In other words—cold and plenty of snow or rain.

Last month was marked by one week of Indian summer, giving a mean maximum of 48.2 degrees and a mean minimum of 26.8, the mean temperature being 37.5 degrees. A maximum degree reading of 68 was recorded while the minimum was 18. There was a 38-degree range of temperature on Nov. 16, and a high wind velocity of 26 miles an hour on the 10th.

Top soil, Copeland remarks, is badly in need of moisture although the war to Nov. 28, 194 vessels, totaling 735,768 tons—both Allied and neutral—headed for Great Britain, had been sunk by German submarines or mines.

DNE said the sinking of 162 ships—52 of them neutral—totaling 639,689 tons, was confirmed by German reports.

Non-German sources, the agency said, disclosed an additional 32 ships of 96,979 tons total, half of them neutral, representing 39,321 tons.

The statement listed 159,897 tons of shipping as tankers and said the average was 7,500 tons per ship—in other words, about 20 tankers.

DNE insisted the total losses must be considerably larger, however, charging that the British admiralty had not published all losses, especially those along the British coast.

Authorized sources declined to comment further on the Soviet Russian-Finnish situation. They said yesterday that Germany was "sympathetic to Russia."

Col. Gen. Walter von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, left for the upper Rhine sectors of the Siegfried line to inspect troops.

"Today's army communiqué told of 'feeble artillery and scouting activity' on the western front and said bad weather hampered aerial reconnaissance to the extent that four flying boats were forced by the weather to alight on the North sea. The planes were damaged but the crews were saved."

Gosney Announces For State Position

LISBON, Dec. 1.—Sheriff Harry L. Gosney withdrew as a candidate for re-election today when he announced his intentions of seeking nomination for state representative.

Columbiana county, now represented in the lower house of the assembly by John P. Stephenson, Republican of East Liverpool, will be entitled to two representatives during 1940-41.

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—DNE, official German news agency, reported today that from the beginning of the war to Nov. 28, 194 vessels, totaling 735,768 tons—both Allied and neutral—headed for Great Britain, had been sunk by German submarines or mines.

DNE said the sinking of 162 ships—52 of them neutral—totaling 639,689 tons, was confirmed by German reports.

Boost Milk Price

AKRON, Dec. 1.—The second increase in two months today boosted the price of home-delivered milk one cent, with pints selling for seven cents and quarts for 12 cents. Akron distributors said higher feeding costs, resulting in an increase in the price of top grade milk from $2.27 to $2.65 per hundred-weight, were responsible.

FIREMEN FIGHT LISBON BLAZE

Battle Flames In E. Washington
St. Duplex; Damage Is Estimated Near $1,500

LISBON, Dec. 1.—Firemen for two hours fought an attic blaze in a duplex on E. Washington st. last night. Damage was estimated at about $1,500.

The fire started in the second floor apartment of W. L. Cartwright, whose family was away at the time. It was believed to have been caused by an overloaded grate. When discovered at 8 p. m., the flames had spread to the attic above.

Firemen saved 15 canaries from the smoke-filled room before getting at the blaze.

The apartment below, occupied by E. H. Sullivan and family, was damaged somewhat by water. The house is owned by the Firestone bank.

Concert Campaign To End Saturday

A large representation from northern Columbiana was indicated today by officials of the Columbiana County Concert association at a check-up meeting at the concert headquarters, 616 E. State st.

The concert association is campaigning for subscribers in Salem, Leetonia, Lisbon and Columbiana. It is planned to bring three outstanding concerts to Salem during the winter, the first of which will be Miss Henrietta Schumann, pianist, on Jan. 9.

The campaign will end Saturday night. Mrs. John Carpenter and Mrs. L. W. King are campaign co-chairmen.

Receipts Gain At Postoffice

Reflecting continued improvement in business conditions, receipts at the Salem postoffice showed additional gains in November. Postmaster A. Earl Beardmore disclosed today.

Still larger receipts are expected this month when the annual Christmas mailing rush gets under way.

Last month's receipts totaled $8,363.77 against $7,794.58 for November, 1938, a gain of $569.19. The present figure also is a $43.89 increase over the $7,959.97 figure for November, 1937.

The year's business to date amounts to $84,798.37, the postmaster reports, compared to the 1938 figure of $76,924.23 and the $81,441.50 to Dec. 1 in 1937.

HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Helsinki's chief of police said tonight that 30 women and children were killed by Russian bombs dropped in the raid on the capital early this afternoon.

HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Finnish reports said that 16 Yugoslav tanks were wrecked by gunfire or mines today in bitter fighting along Finland's southeastern border.

Order Young Men to Report for Service

LONDON, Dec. 1.—King George VI today summoned all male British subjects from 20 to 23 years of age to register for military service Dec. 9.

Approximately 256,000 men are expected to answer the call.

This was the third concentration proclamation this year and extends military service to those 22 years old and all those who have reached 20 since June 3, when the first call was made.

The call into actual service is expected after the first of January.

FINNS SET UP NEW CABINET AS SOVIET INVASION GOES ON

(By Associated Press)

HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Risto Ryti, governor of the Bank of Finland, tonight formed a new cabinet to replace the resigned government of Aimo K. Cajander.

Both Cajander and Elias Erkkö, the foreign minister who directed Finland's recent policy of resistance to Russian demands, were dropped from the new government.

Besides the elimination of Cajander and Erkkö, both of whom had been bitterly attacked by the Russian government, principal changes in the new cabinet as shown by an official announcement tonight were:

Appointment of Vaino Tanner, Socialist, finance minister in the Cajander government and considered friendly to Russia, as foreign minister.

Inclusive as minister without portfolio of Hjalmar Kusti Paasikivi, former premier long experienced in Russian affairs and head of the Finnish delegation which had been negotiating with Moscow over the Russian demands.

MOSCOW HOLDS FINNS' ENVOYS

Staff Unable to Obtain
Passports; Telephones
Are Removed

MOSCOW, Dec. 1.—The spokesmen of the Finnish legation said today that the Soviet Russian government had removed the legation's telephones and that the staff was still unable to obtain passports for its departure.

Officials of the legation were unable to say when they would leave for Helsinki and it was thought possible in some quarters that permission might be refused until the staff of the Soviet consulate in Helsinki had reached Moscow.

Publish "Appeal"

Soviet newspapers published what they called an appeal by the Finnish Communist party to take over the estates of large Finnish landowners. They said the appeal was issued by radio.

The newspaper gave no details of fighting in the undeclared war between the Soviet Union and Finland in which Russia today charged Finland with having taken the initiative.

"The Finnish Communist appeal" charged that "imperialistic" Swedish and British interests have supported the Finnish government in an anti-Soviet campaign.

"Like Poland, it was a nest of anti-Soviet intrigues," it said.

"Such a government cannot guarantee the interests of Finland. It is a tool of foreign interests. Workers there are greatly oppressed."

"We appeal for the removal of the last capitalistic government of Finland."

Still Blame Finns

A statement circulated by Tass, official news agency, declared that the supreme command of the Red army ordered the invasion just after three attacks by Finnish border forces.

As a result of these "new armed provocations"—as Tass put it—Red forces crossed the frontier at 8 a. m. yesterday (midnight Wednesday, E. S. T.) on the Karelian isthmus and at several other points.

In connection with its allegation of Finnish responsibility for the conflict, the Tass announcement also said that in the first day's operations Russian forces reached 10 to 15 kilometers (6 1/4 to 9 1/4 miles) into Finland while reconnoitering planes bombed airfields at Helsinki and Viipuri (Viborg).

At Extreme Northern Tip Of the Russian-Finnish border Russian warplanes were reported to have dropped troops by parachute and occupied Petsamo, principal town of Finland's narrow corridor to the Arctic ocean.

All But West Under Fire

This meant that all but Finland's extreme west coast was under fire.

(In the northern attacks the Russians were reported in dispatches from Kirkenen, just across the Norwegian frontier, and to have set several towns afire in new bombing raids. The Red fleet was reported blockading the Finnish coast in this section, with submarines bottling up merchant craft.

HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—(2:55 p. m.—7:55 a. m. E. S. T.)—Russia's armed forces struck against Finland with renewed fury today in operations extending from the Arctic ocean to the country's southwestern shore, adding aerial machine-gunning to their raids with explosive and incendiary bombs.

A large squadron of bombers reared down on Helsinki for the second successive day, machine-gunning the capital proper and its suburbs and setting the modern city ablaze with new fires. Beginning at 1:15 p. m. (6:15 a. m. E. S. T.) this raid still was in progress one hour and 40 minutes later.

Finnish reports said many of the raiders were shot down. Casualties in the city could not be estimated immediately. Fifty persons were officially listed as killed in yesterday's attacks on the capital alone, and the number of dead and wounded in the provinces and in widespread new attacks today was undetermined.

The new attacks followed expiration of an ultimatum broadcast by the Moscow radio threatening annihilation of Helsinki unless an agreement was reached by 3 a. m. (8 p. m. Thursday, E. S. T.).

Hit Northern Outposts
Russian forces were striking today at Finland's farthest northern outposts, at points along the 800-mile eastern frontier and along the southern seacoast around to the extreme southwest.

Near the middle of this front Soviet land forces had occupied territory north of Lake Ladoga and farther south had advanced on the Akrelian isthmus north of Leningrad. (Moscow said this advance was from 6 to nearly 10 miles).

Russian warships were reported to have opened a heavy bombardment of the Russaore fortress at Hangoe, on a strategic southwestern Finnish promontory 75 miles west of Helsinki and guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Finland. (Russia had demanded Nahgoe for a naval base).

At the extreme northern tip of this Russian-Finnish border Russian warplanes were reported to have dropped troops by parachute and occupied Petsamo, principal town of Finland's narrow corridor to the Arctic ocean.

Weatherman Fears Pres-

A misty Dec. 1 arrived today on the heels of a month of fine November and accompanied by a prediction from L. H. Copeland of Millport, U. S. district weather observer, that the present month would have a below normal temperature and precipitation above normal. In other words—cold and plenty of snow or rain.

Last month was marked by one week of Indian summer, giving a mean maximum of 48.2 degrees and a mean minimum of 26.8, the mean temperature being 37.5 degrees. A maximum degree reading of 68 was recorded while the minimum was 18. There was a 38-degree range of temperature on Nov. 16, and a high wind velocity of 26 miles an hour on the 10th.

Top soil, Copeland remarks, is badly in need of moisture although wheat plants are in fair condition. November was a fine month for outdoor work and most farmers took advantage of it.

There is plenty of all kinds of feed and farmers now have their livestock on winter rations.

The year, the observer reports, is short one inch on precipitation but eight degrees ahead in temperature.

Precipitation last month totaled only 37 inch, compared to 2.69 a year ago. The mean temperature of November, 1938, was 40.5, against the current 37.5 mark.

The normal temperature, Copeland's records show, is 39.4 degrees and the normal precipitation, 2.43 inches.

November, 1931, was the warmest, with a mean temperature of 46.5, and 1917 the coolest with a 35.3 degree reading. A total precipitation of 6.89 inches gave the year 1927 the wettest November. The driest was in 1912 with .45 inch rainfall.

November, 1913, had the latest snowfall—15 inches.

MINES AND SUBS SINK 194 SHIPS

This Is German Score To Date; 735,768 Tons
Represented

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Dec. 1.—DNB, official German news agency, reported today that from the beginning of the war to Nov. 28, 194 vessels, totaling 735,768 tons—both Allied and neutral—had been sunk by German submarines or mines.

DNB said the sinking of 162 ships—52 of them neutral—totaling 639,689 tons, was confirmed by German reports.

Non-German sources, the agency said, disclosed an additional 32 ships of 96,079 tons total, half of them neutral, representing 39,321 tons.

The statement listed 150,867 tons of shipping as tankers and said the average was 7,500 tons per ship.

In other words, about 20 tankers, DNB insisted, the total losses must be considerably larger, however, charging that the British admiralty had not published all losses, especially those along the British coast.

Authorized sources declined to comment further on the Soviet Russian-Finnish situation. They said yesterday that Germany was "sympathetic to Russia."

Col. Gen. Walter von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, left for the upper Rhine sectors of the Siegfried line to inspect troops.

Today's army commander told of "fearful artillery and scouting activity" on the western front and said bad weather hampered aerial reconnaissance to the extent that four flying boats were forced by the weather to alight on the North sea. The planes were damaged but the crews were saved.

Boost Milk Price

AKRON, Dec. 1.—The second increase in two months today boosted the price of home-delivered milk one cent, with pints selling for seven and quarts for 12 cents. Akron distributors said higher feeding costs, resulting in an increase in the price of top grade milk from $2.27½ to $2.65 per hundred-weight, were responsible.

FIREMEN FIGHT LISBON BLAZE

Battle Flames In E. Washington
St. Duplex; Damage Is Estimated Near $1,500

LISBON, Dec. 1.—Firemen for two hours fought an attic blaze in a duplex on E. Washington st. last night. Damage was estimated at about $1,500.

The fire started in the second floor apartment of W. L. Cartwright, whose family was away at the time. It was believed to have been caused by an over-loaded grate. When discovered at 8 p. m., the flames had spread to the attic above.

Firemen saved 15 canaries from the smoke-filled room before getting at the blaze.

The apartment below, occupied by E. H. Sullivan and family, was damaged somewhat by water. The house is owned by the Firestone bank.

Concert Campaign To End Saturday

A large representation from northern Columbiana was indicated today by officials of the Columbiana County Concert association at a check-up meeting at the concert headquarters, 616 E. State st.

The concert association is campaigning for subscribers in Salem, Leetonia, Lisbon and Columbiana. It is planned to bring three outstanding concerts to Salem during the winter, the first of which will be Miss Henrietta Schumann, pianist, on Jan. 9.

The campaign will end Saturday night. Mrs. John Carpenter and Mrs. L. W. King are campaign co-chairmen.

RUSSIAN SHIP REPORTED SUNK

Hango Defense Active;
Women, Children Die
In Bomb Raids

(By Associated Press)
HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Finnish defense batteries at the strategic port of Hango, in southwestern Finland, were reported to have sunk the Noeking, Russian warship, today.

HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Helsinki's chief of police said tonight that 30 women and children were killed by Russian bombs dropped in the raid on the capital early this afternoon.

HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Finnish reports said that 16 Russian tanks were wrecked by gunfire or mines today in bitter fighting along Finland's southeastern border.

RECEIPTS GAIN AT POSTOFFICE

Reflecting continued improvement in business conditions, receipts at the Salem postoffice showed additional gains in November. Postmaster A. Earl Beardmore disclosed today.

Still larger receipts are expected this month when the annual Christmas mailing rush gets under way.

Last month's receipts totaled $8,363.77 against $7,794.58 for November, 1938, a gain of $569.19. The present figure also is a $403.80 increase over the $7,959.97 figure for November, 1937.

The year's business to date amounts to $84,768.37, the postmaster reports, compared to the 1938 figure of $76,924.23 and the $81,441.50 to Dec. 1 in 1937.

Order Young Men to Report for Service

LONDON, Dec. 1.—King George VI today summoned all male British subjects from 20 to 23 years of age to register for military service Dec. 9.

Approximately 250,000 men are expected to answer the call.

This was the third concentration proclamation this year and extends military service to those 22 years old and all those who have reached 20 since June 3, when the first call was made.

The call into actual service is expected after the first of January.

FINNS SET UP NEW CABINET AS SOVIET INVASION GOES ON

(By Associated Press)
HELSINKI, Dec. 1.—Risto Rytty, governor of the Bank of Finland, tonight formed a new cabinet to replace the resigned government of Aimo K. Cajander.

Both Cajander and Elias Erkkko, the foreign minister who directed Finland's recent policy of resistance to Russian demands, were dropped from the new government.

Besides the elimination of Cajander and Erkkko, both of whom had been bitterly attacked by the Russian government, principal changes in the new cabinet as shown by an official announcement tonight were:

Appointment of Vaino Tanner, Socialist, finance minister in the Cajander government and considered friendly to Russia, as foreign minister.

Inclusive as minister without portfolio of Haju Kusti Paasikivi, former premier long experienced in Russian affairs and head of the Finnish delegation which had been negotiating with Moscow over the Russian demands.

MOSCOW HOLDS FINNS' ENVOYS

Staff Unable to Obtain
Passports; Telephones
Are Removed

MOSCOW, Dec. 1.—The spokesmen of the Finnish legation said today that the Soviet Russian government had removed the legation's telephones and that the staff was still unable to obtain passports for its departure.

Officials of the legation were unable to say when they would leave for Helsinki and it was thought possible in some quarters that permission might be refused until the staff of the Soviet consulate in Helsinki had reached Moscow.

Publish "Appeal"
Soviet newspapers published what they called an appeal by the Finnish Communist party to take over the estates of large Finnish landowners. They said the appeal was issued by radio.

The newspaper gave no details of fighting in the undeclared war between the Soviet union and Finland in which Russia today charged Finland with having taken the initiative.

The "Finnish Communist appeal" charged that "imperialistic" Swedish and British interests have supported the Finnish government in an anti-Soviet campaign.

"Like Poland, it was a nest of anti-Soviet intrigues," it said.

"Such a government cannot guarantee the interests of Finland. It is a tool of foreign interests—workers there are greatly oppressed."

"We appeal for the removal of the last capitalist government of Finland."

Still Blame Finns
A statement circulated by Tass, official news agency, declared that the supreme command of the Red army ordered the invasion just after three attacks by Finnish border forces.

As a result of these "new armed provocations"—as Tass put it—Red forces crossed the frontier at 8 a. m. yesterday (midnight, Wednesday, E. S. T.) on the Karelian isthmus and at several other points.

In connection with its allegation of Finnish responsibility for the conflict, the Tass announcement also said that in the first day's operations Russian forces reached 10 to 15 kilometers (6¼ to 9¼ miles) into Finland while reconnoitering plants bombed airfields at Helsinki and Viipuri (Viborg).

A NEW WHATIZZIT

Several years ago one of his readers wrote in to ask Walter Lippmann why he didn't write three successive columns on communism, fascism and democracy, explaining concisely what they were. Lippmann replied, with a suggestion of humor, that he had been trying to find out for years in order to write a book on the subject.

If he's still trying, he has a new whatizzit to puzzle over now. Truth of the matter is, there are two new ones, but Germany is secondary to Russia as a focus for ideological interest. Russia claimed to be putting Marxism into practice, and Marxism was a formula. One could buy a book and find out what it was, even though readers seldom agreed.

But Russia, which once claimed to be communism in practice, isn't communist now; its own leaders admit it. Yet, there is the strange spectacle of persons outside Russia who call themselves communists looking to Moscow and the Third Internationale for guidance. Insofar as they look to Moscow instead of looking into Karl Marx, they are less communists than Russians. What does that make them?

Perhaps Rep. Dies can figure it out if Mr. Lippmann doesn't want to take on the responsibility. The Texas claims he knows a communist when he sees one, though the term hasn't been redefined since the "greatest living examples" became Nazis, or did the Nazis become the "greatest living examples"?

WHO WON THIS WAR?

End of the labor dispute that has tied up production by Chrysler Corp. for 54 days, impoverished its employees to the extent that the governor of Michigan admitted the situation was desperate, and given collective bargaining in the automobile industry its worst black eye, brings a feeling of futility instead of relief.

It is hard to see how management, employees and union officials can escape the conviction that collective bargaining has laid an egg. Apparently, everything was in order to usher in an era of peace and goodwill in Chrysler Corp. labor relations, according to the prospectus of the New Deal. There was ushered in, instead, the longest tieup ever staged in the automobile industry.

Employees lost wages and morals, the company lost a great deal of business, and the union that directed the mixup lost prestige. Nothing gained in the settlement begins to balance what was lost; i. e., confidence of union members and other workers in the union's ability to bargain advantageously without resorting to direct action. It was not a convincing sample of the advantages of collective bargaining which have been described in such glowing terms the last few years. Here was no fight to determine who should have the right to do the bargaining, but a test of the bargaining ability of those who had gained the right.

GASTON AND ALFONSO

If there were more sense and less silliness in politics, the party in power automatically would hold its nominating convention first. This was the rule followed by the Republican party when it was in control of the national government.

Its leaders figured they had nothing to fear from letting Democrats know what the Republican candidate's name was going to be and what kind of a platform he was going to run on—and they were usually right. Now that Democrats are carrying the ball, Republicans would like to have the Democratic party go first.

But apparently the Democrats are going to prove skittish. There is a lively possibility the two parties will Gaston and Alfonso each other into a convention date as late as August. In itself, that looks like a good idea; presidential campaigns are needlessly long now that candidates can reach millions by radio where once they reached only hundreds. But if the motive is only to wait out the other party, it would look like a confession of weakness, particularly on the part of the Democrats. Being on the defensive, they should be willing to declare their candidate and the lines of their campaign first. The Republican party can't very well offer alternatives until it knows the original propositions.

SKIRMISH IN TEXAS

Probably nothing's going to be settled by the skirmish in San Antonio, Tex., over constitutionality of the state's poll tax law. Mayor Maury Maverick, charged with having paid poll taxes to enable certain local citizens to vote, has attacked the law's constitutionality as a defensive maneuver, rather than as a matter of principle, in all likelihood.

If the mayor's ideals were crushed by poll taxes, which exist in practically all southern states, he would not have restricted his financial assistance to would-be voters on his side, which is the thing that puts a barb on the charge against him. He would have been equally zealous to keep the tax from discriminating against potential voters on the other side. There is no indication that he did this.

The poll tax doesn't ring true as a testimonial to faith in democracy, it's true, but in the controlling decision on the matter, the supreme court's ruling in the Breedlove case, decided in 1937, it is made plain that voting is a privilege derived from states, which can do about as they please as long as they steer clear of direct discrimination against a specific group.

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FORTY YEARS AGO

(Issue of December 1, 1899)

Miss Martha Godward of near New Albany and William W. Coy of Greenford were married last evening at the bride's home. Mr. Coy is a farmer and the bride is a teacher.

Mrs. Sarah Webb of Franklin ave., returned this morning from an extended visit with her son, Dr. L. Webb, of Philadelphia.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

(Issue of December 1, 1909)

Votaw, Coppock & Whinery Bros. are moving from the Anderson block on Ellsworth ave. to the Shriver building on South Lundy st. After Wednesday, Dec. 1, the firm will be permanently located in their new quarters, and will continue in the implement and provision business.

Rev. George E. Kent, pastor of the Dry street Friends church, went to Cleveland Tuesday morning to attend a three days' ministerial conference of the Ohio yearly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Evin of Lisbon Monday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Mrs. Evin was formerly Miss Diara Brewster, daughter of J. T. Brewster, formerly of East Palestine, but later of Lisbon. Relatives from East Palestine, East Liverpool and Pittsburgh were present at the surprise celebration.

About 36 friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Probert surprised them on their tenth wedding anniversary Monday evening. The bride and groom were presented a bouquet of 36 carnations and a brass jardiniere, the presentation speech being made by J. A. Mounts.

E. E. Hanna and son Delos, of McKinley ave., spent Saturday and Sunday in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. William Teegarden have returned from Craig, Col., and will spend the winter in Cleveland. Mrs. Teegarden was formerly Miss Rachel McCracken.

Salem friends have received word that Chester A. Blount was elected mayor of Punta Gorda, Fla. Mrs. Blount was Miss Clara Robbins, who has many friends in this city, her former home.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(Issue of December 1, 1919)

Property for the construction of a Christian Science church was purchased Monday afternoon by the trustees of the church. The new structure is to be located at the corner of East Green st. and Garfield ave. Alfred J. Steves, who conducts a blacksmith shop on Garfield ave., sold his residence property there to the trustees of the church.

Mr. Steves will occupy 80 feet in the rear of the lot, where he will convert his blacksmith shop into a home.

The clerk's union, in session Monday evening, elected officers for 1920. They are: President, Albert Bodamer; first vice president, Omar Rinehart; second vice president, Ross Culbertson; guide, E. D. Shive; guardian, O. M. Arbaugh; secretary, Dora Miller; treasurer, Ray Anderson; trustees, Ira Weikart, William Flickinger and James Probert.

The members of Charles H. Carey post, No. 50, American Legion, have received an invitation from McKinley post No. 76, at Sebring, to attend a Legion dance which will be held in that city Thursday, Dec. 4. A number of local people will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hendricks, Miss Esther Steffer and Mrs. Douglas Vivian left this morning to drive to Cleveland, where they will spend the day.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, December 2

A PRONOUNCED stabilizing force seems at work on this day despite sudden and drastic upheavals of a radical nature. This is incidental to the breaking away of long-stale and frustrating conditions. With the smashing of this crystallization, there are indications of decided progress. Industry, perseverance and patience are needed.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of decidedly improved conditions, with much gain and enduring progress, although such may be accompanied by drastic upheavals, revolutionary change or other devastating visitations. These may be needed to break up old, stagnant and crystallized situations. Hard work, patience and fortitude find reward in enhanced possessions, increased property and investment valuation, or other concrete forms of prosperity.

A child born on this day, although shrewd, profound, persistent and generally solid and substantial, may have moods of unrest, eccentricity or flightiness, perhaps as an escape from certain psychological inheritance, a measure of fortune.

Judging from the way Christmas buying has started, the late shopper will be something of a curiosity.

Headlines in one of our exchanges say: "Five-Point Buck Shot in Store." Is that any way to treat a customer?

Another thing we've often noticed is that in many instances, in listening to the average man talk, causes you to wonder what he's thinking about.

The headlines say: "Twelve Guardsmen Get 402 Hits a Minute Testing New Rifle." That sort of marksmanship would make a bank bandit mighty uncomfortable.

If Ken Keltner can't live on a salary of $7,500, somebody should pass the hat in his behalf. Many would be satisfied with one-third that amount.

The headlines say: "Early Says F. D. R. Plans Budget Cut." There's an election next year.

Help For Home Injuries
Discussed By Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE HAVE discussed surgical first aid emergencies. Medical emergencies include the treatment of fainting, possible poisoning, falls with head injuries, burn, frost bite, asphyxiation, and complications of sickness, such as cramp, chills, colic and choking spells.

Head injuries—A young girl trips on the top of a flight of stairs, falls down, lights on her head and becomes unconscious. In 50 per cent of cases the condition looks more alarming than it is.

The first thing to do in such a case is to use your own head and not lose it. Determine signs of life.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

—breathing, groaning—in order to inform the doctor when you call him. Straighten the injured person out on the floor and make as comfortable as possible. Cover with blankets to avoid shock until the doctor arrives.

Can Avoid Complications

Burns—Severe burns are caused by burning garments. Serious complications can be avoided by smothering the person in a rug, rolling on the floor, even when it is not evident that the garments are still burning.

Simple burns should be treated with borax acid ointment or vaseline, or any oil that is handy and reasonably sterile.

Poisoning cases—Call a doctor, empty the stomach, dilute the poison. A good general antidote is soap and water. This also is likely to empty the stomach. The stomach should be emptied two or three times and then, if water can be taken, it should be poured in to dilute the poison.

Low temperature emergencies—The body's parts most vulnerable to freezing are the ears, cheeks, nose, fingers and toes. The first aid of frost bite includes the use of gradually increased warmth—application first of snow, then of the hand, then of friction, then of the fire.

Artificial Respiration

Asphyxiation—The universal treatment for asphyxiation is artificial respiration. An apnoea about this is that the operator should keep cool and the victim should keep warm. Put the victim face down with the forehead resting upon the bent arm. Be sure that the tongue is not obstructing the breathing passages. The operator should kneel astraddle the victim, facing his head, place one hand on each side of the chest and alternately lean forward and compress it and then lean back allowing the air to enter the lungs. This is called the prone pressure method. It should be done in cycles with about five seconds each. Pressure is applied for two seconds, operator leans back one second, rests two seconds, repeats.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. K.: "Please advise me of a harmless, sure cure for head lice."

Answer: When there is a profuse involvement it is better to clip the hair entirely. Treatment is designed to dissolve the glue which holds the nits to the hair and kill the lice and nits. Soak the scalp with equal parts of kerosene and vinegar, keeping it bandaged for several hours. Cover the bandage with a bathing cap. Then comb out all the nits. This must be repeated daily until the nits are all gone.

H. O. C.: "What is the caloric value of an ordinary glass of beer, glass of ginger ale and a slice of gluten bread? How many calories in a slice of ordinary so-called diabetic bread?"

Answer: Beer, six-ounce glass—110 calories; ginger ale, six-ounce glass—100 calories; gluten bread or other diabetic breads, one thick slice (four ounces)—250 calories.

L. B. C.: "Please give the diet and treatment for pellagra. Is there any known cure for pellagra?"

Answer: We now have a specific treatment for pellagra that is completely successful. It is nicotinic acid. The diet to prevent pellagra is meat, potato, fresh fruit and fresh vegetables.

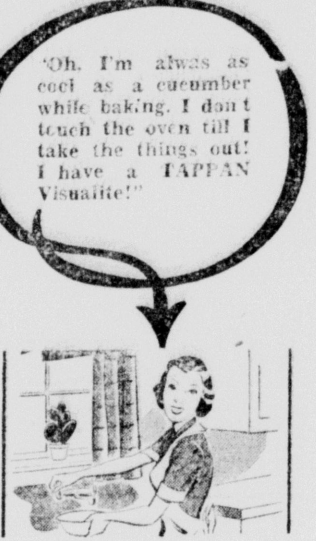

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in Reducing Diet, "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin" envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th St., New York City. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks

WAPAKONETA—Attired as farmerettes, women attending a "ladies' corn husking bee" here husked 58 bushels of corn in a few hours. Prizes were awarded to the huskers who husked the largest number of bushels; who had the cleanest ears of corn and whose bushels contained the most ears.

End of the labor dispute that has tied up production by Chrysler Corp. for 54 days, impoverished its employees to the extent that the governor of Michigan admitted the situation was desperate, and given collective bargaining in the automobile industry its worst black eye, brings a feeling of futility instead of relief.

It is hard to see how management, employees and union officials can escape the conviction that collective bargaining has laid an egg. Apparently, everything was in order to usher in an era of peace and goodwill in Chrysler Corp. labor relations, according to the prospectus of the New Deal. There was ushered in, instead, the longest tieup ever staged in the automobile industry.

Employees lost wages and morals, the company lost a great deal of business, and the union that directed the mixup lost prestige. Nothing gained in the settlement begins to balance what was lost; i. e., confidence of union members and other workers in the union's ability to bargain advantageously without resorting to direct action. It was not a convincing sample of the advantages of collective bargaining which have been described in such glowing terms the last few years. Here was no fight to determine who should have the right to do the bargaining, but a test of the bargaining ability of those who had gained the right.

GASTON AND ALFONSO

If there were more sense and less sizzle in politics, the party in power automatically would hold its nominating convention first. This was the rule followed by the Republican party when it was in control of the national government.

Its leaders figured they had nothing to fear from letting Democrats know what the Republican candidate's name was going to be and what kind of a platform he was going to run on—and they were usually right. Now that Democrats are carrying the ball, Republicans would like to have the Democratic party go first.

But apparently the Democrats are going to prove skittish. There is a lively possibility the two parties will Gaston and Alfonso each other into a convention date as late as August. In itself, that looks like a good idea; presidential campaigns are needlessly long now that candidates can reach millions by radio where once they reached only hundreds. But if the motive be only to wait out the other party, it would look like a confession of weakness, particularly on the part of the Democrats. Being on the defensive, they should be willing to declare their candidate and the lines of their campaign first. The Republican party can't very well offer alternatives until it knows the original propositions.

SKIRMISH IN TEXAS

Probably nothing's going to be settled by the skirmish in San Antonio, Tex., over constitutionality of the state's poll tax law. Mayor Maury Maverick, charged with having paid poll taxes to enable certain local citizens to vote, has attacked the law's constitutionality as a defensive maneuver, rather than as a matter of principle, in all likelihood.

If the mayor's ideals were crushed by poll taxes, which exist in practically all southern states, he would not have restricted his financial assistance to would-be voters on his side, which is the thing that puts a barb on the charge against him. He would have been equally zealous to keep the tax from discriminating against potential voters on the other side. There is no indication that he did this.

The poll tax doesn't ring true as a testimonial to faith in democracy, it's true, but in the controlling decision on the matter, the supreme court's ruling in the Breedlove case, decided in 1937, it is made plain that voting is a privilege derived from states, which can do about as they please as long as they steer clear of direct discrimination against a specific group.

There seems at first glance nothing whatever to approve about the young Wisconsin aviator who chooses this moment to attempt a non-stop flight to Europe, but there is. The one point that will win endorsement is the name chosen for the plane: Screwball I.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hendricks, Miss Esther Stoffer and Mrs. Douglas Vivian left this morning to drive to Cleveland, where they will spend the day.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, December 2

A PRONOUNCED stabilizing force seems at work on this day despite sudden and drastic upheavals of a radical nature. This is incidental to the breaking away of long-static and frustrating conditions. With the smashing of this crystallization, there are indications of decided progress. Industry, perseverance and patience are needed.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of decidedly improved conditions, with much gain and enduring progress, although such may be accompanied by drastic upheavals, revolutionary change or other devastating visitations. These may be needful to break up old, stagnant and crystallized situations. Hard work, patience and fortitude find reward in enhanced possessions, increased property and investment valuation, or other concrete forms of prosperity.

A child born on this day, although shrewd, profound, persistent and generally solid and substantial, may have moods of unrest, eccentricity or flightiness, perhaps as an escape from certain psychological inheritance a measure of fortune.

Judging from the way Christmas buying has started, the late shopper will be something of a curiosity.

Headlines in one of our exchanges say: "Five-Point Buck Shot in Store." Is that any way to treat a customer?

Another thing we've often noticed is that in many instances, in listening to the average man talk, causes you to wonder what he's thinking about.

The headlines say: "Twelve Guardsmen Get 402 Hits a Minute Testing New Rifle." That sort of marksmanship would make a bank bandit mighty uncomfortable.

If Ken Keltner can't live on a salary of $7,500, somebody should pass the fiat in his behalf. Many would be satisfied with one-third that amount.

The headlines say: "Early Says F. D. R. Plans Budget Cut." There's an election next year.

Help For Home Injuries Discussed By Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE HAVE discussed surgical first aid emergencies. Medical emergencies include the treatment of fainting, possible poisoning, falls with head injuries, burn, frost bite, asphyxiation, and complications of sickness, such as cramp, chills, colic and choking spells.

Head injuries — A young girl trips on the top of a flight of stairs, falls down, lights on her head and becomes unconscious. Is 95 per cent of cases the condition looks more alarming than it is.

The first thing to do in such a case is to use your own head and not lose it. Determine signs of life.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

—breathing, groaning—in order to inform the doctor when you call him. Straighten the injured person out on the floor and make as comfortable as possible. Cover with blankets to avoid shock until the doctor arrives.

Can Avoid Complications Burns—Severe burns are caused by burning garments. Serious complications can be avoided by smothering the person in a rug, rolling on the floor, even when it is not evident that the garments are still burning.

Simple burns should be treated with boric acid ointment or vaseline, or any oil that is handy and reasonably sterile.

Poisoning cases—Call a doctor, empty the stomach, dilute the poison. A good general antidote is soap and water. This also is likely to empty the stomach. The stomach should be emptied two or three times and as much water as can be taken. It should be poured in to dilute the poison.

Low temperature emergencies—The body's parts most vulnerable to freezing are the ears, cheeks, nose, fingers and toes. The first aid of frost bite includes the use of gradually increased warmth—application first of snow, then of the hand, then of friction, then of the fire.

Artificial Respiration

Asphyxiation — The universal treatment for asphyxiation is artificial respiration. An aphorism about this is that the operator should keep cool and the victim should keep warm. Put the victim face down, with the forehead resting upon the bent arm. Be sure that the tongue is not obstructing the breathing passages. The operator should kneel astraddle the victim, facing his head, place one hand on each side of the chest and alternately lean forward and compress it and then lean back, allowing the air to enter the lungs. This is called the prone pressure method. It should be done in cycles which take about five seconds each. Pressure is applied for two seconds, operator leans back one second, rests two seconds, repeats.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. K.: "Please advise me of a harmless, sure cure for head lice."

Answer: When there is a profuse involvement it is better to clip the hair entirely. Treatment is designed to dissolve the glue which holds the nits to the hair and kill the lice and nits. Soak the scalp with equal parts of kerosene and vinegar, keeping it bandaged for several hours. Cover the bandage with a bathing cap. Then comb out all the nits. This must be repeated daily until the nits are all gone.

H. O. C.: "What is the caloric value of an ordinary glass of beer, glass of ginger ale and a slice of gluten bread? How many calories in a slice of ordinary so-called diabetic bread?"

Answer: Beer, six-ounce glass—110 calories; ginger ale, six-ounce glass—100 calories; gluten bread or other diabetic breads, one thick slice (four ounces)—250 calories.

L. B. C.: "Please give the diet and treatment for pellagra. Is there any known cure for pellagra?"

Answer: We now have a specific treatment for pellagra that is completely successful. It is nicotinic acid. The diet to prevent pellagra is meat, potato, fresh fruit and fresh vegetables.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in Reducing Diet, "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetics," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin" envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th St., New York City. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks

WAPAKONETA — Attired as farmerettes, women attending a "ladies' corn husking bee" here husked 58 bushels of corn in a few hours. Prizes were awarded to the huskers who husked the largest number of bushels; who had the cleanest ears of corn and whose bushels contained the most ears.

Prince of Peace Orators Will Meet In County Finals

LISBON, Dec. 1—Sixteen Columbiana county young people, winners in their respective churches, will participate in the county Prince of Peace Declaration contests to be held in three churches on Sunday evening, Dec. 10, according to an announcement today by the Rev. J. Morgan Cox, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, who is chairman of the county contests.

Those who will speak in the Methodist church in New Waterford, of which Rev. Ralph Strobel is pastor, are Maurice C. H. Stenravn, Cullison and Elmore Hildebrand of Lisbon; John G. Smith of Leetonia; Louis Raymond of Salem; and Lawrence Rile, Washington, D. C.

In the Presbyterian church of Leetonia, Rev. Robert Topping, pastor, the contestants will be Frances Evans and Richard Gunn of Lisbon; Cary Myers of New Waterford; Ruth C. C. of Columbiana; and Ethel Bacon, Homeworth.

The third contest will be held in the local Christian church, of which Rev. Theodore Cord is pastor. The speakers will be John Schneider, Rogers; Pauline Power, New Waterford; Stanley Morgan, East Liverpool; Betty Wolfe, Wellsburg; and Louise Cox, Leetonia.

The winners in each of the three county contests will be awarded a silver medal and the right to participate in the district contest which will be held some time in January, the time and place not having been decided upon as yet.

Coin Thief Hunted By Sheriff's Force

LISBON, Dec. 1—The sheriff's office today is seeking the thief who entered the C. H. Lore home near Peace Valley park on the New Waterford-East Palestine road during the absence of the family and escaped with Lore's collection of coins which was valued at approximately $100.

The robbery was investigated by Deputy Sheriff H. J. Clark, who also questioned three suspects after finding that entrance had been gained through a garage at the rear of the house which was connected with the coal cellar.

The thief then climbed the stairs to the kitchen and ransacked a second story bedroom before finding the loot, which consisted of $32 in quarters, $5 in Jefferson nickels, three or four silver dollars, $4 in change, and 225 old coins. The latter were secreted in an old fashioned purse, hidden in a box.

Bargains are plentiful. The ads. will tell you where.

Flick Addresses Lisbon Kiwanians

LISBON, Dec. 1.—Citing the need for greater personal service in charitable work, B. L. Flick of Salem, chairman of Perry township Christmas Seal sales, told members of the Lisbon Kiwanian club in an address here yesterday that "opportunities can be found when we lend a helping hand to the other fellow and consequently get a little measure of happiness for ourselves."

Declaring that under present conditions there is a great need for various charitable organizations, Flick praised community fund drives, Red Cross relief work and Christmas Seal sales for making life a little easier for the unfortunate and needy. "They deserve the support of all in a position to help," he said.

However, Flick pointed out there is more to charity than just giving money. "Isn't personal service just as charitable and fully as important?" he asked.

"Isn't it possible that by personal contacts at times we will have a better understanding of the problems of the unfortunate and needy? This understanding will help us to be a little more human in our relations with our fellowmen," he said.

Joseph Marsilia, Enroute to N. York, Makes Visit Here

Enroute to New York after completing a successful concert tour which took him into five states and Canada, Joe Marsilia, former Salem resident who has gained widespread fame in music circles, stopped here yesterday to visit with friends and relatives.

Marsilia, a lyric tenor, is associated with the Columbia Concert Co. in New York. His recent tour included solo appearances in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and two provinces in Canada.

Marsilia, with his wife and small daughter, who have been visiting relatives in Alliance, will leave tomorrow for New York where they have made their home for the past three years. Prior to living in New York, Marsilia resided in Cleveland where he started the study of voice culture in 1927.

Cleaned Out

PITTSBURGH.—The "no checkee, no washee" rule didn't work so well for Yee Hong, laundry owner. A man walked in, handed him a paper slip on which Chinese characters were scrawled. But the check hadn't come from Yee's place.

"No laundry," said Yee, shaking his head.

"Gimme your money then," commanded the man, producing a gun. Yee handed over the $11 in his cash drawer.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Perry L. Green of Hiram started his sixth term as president of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation today.

Green, former state director of agriculture, was reelected by trustees last night at closing sessions of the bureau's 21st annual convention.

Other officers renamed were: A. F. Moon of Conover, vice president; Murray D. Lincoln of Columbus, secretary, and W. E. Sollars of Washington Court House, treasurer.

Approximately 3,500 farmers and their families attended the two-day gathering.

Seek Recruits

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—The fifth corps area of the army will seek enlistment of 2,200 additional men. Maj. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis of the area said today. Under the army's current expansion program, more than 5,000 have enlisted throughout the area, embracing Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana.

Motorist Uninjured

LISBON, Dec. 1.—A motorist, believed to be H. M. Bolleshay of Central City, Pa., escaped unhurt, apparently, when his automobile skidded into a telephone pole and overturned on Route 45, just north of here, at 8 a. m. today. The car was towed to a garage.

MANSFIELD — Connie Linham, of Portsmouth, O., is only seven, and this is her first year of riding, but she was won 11 ribbons and a trophy in 11 events she has entered.

Joseph Marsilia, Enroute to N. York, Makes Visit Here

Enroute to New York after completing a successful concert tour which took him into five states and Canada, Joe Marsilia, former Salem resident who has gained widespread fame in music circles, stopped here yesterday to visit with friends and relatives.

Marsilia, a lyric tenor, is associated with the Columbia Concert Co. in New York. His recent tour included solo appearances in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Ohio, and two provinces in Canada.

Marsilia, with his wife and small daughter, who have been visiting relatives in Alliance, will leave tomorrow for New York where they have made their home for the past three years. Prior to living in New York, Marsilia resided in Cleveland where he started the study of voice culture in 1927.

Cleaned Out

PITTSBURGH.—The "no checkee, no washee" rule didn't work so well for Yee Hong, laundry owner.

A man walked in, handed him a paper slip on which Chinese characters were scrawled. But the check hadn't come from Yee's place.

"No laundry," said Yee, shaking his head.

"Gimme your money then," commanded the man, producing a gun. Yee handed over the $11 in his cash drawer.

County Rural Forum To Open New Season

The first meeting of the Columbus County Rural Forum for 1939-40 season will be held in the American Legion home in Lisbon at 8 p. m. Monday night.

Mrs. Luella Florman, a member of the Fairfield Centralized school faculty, will give a report of her travels in Europe this past summer. Mrs. Florman, along with several others, traveled in many of the countries in Europe and arrived here shortly before the war started.

The second speaker will be State Representative John P. Stephenson of East Liverpool. Stephenson will tell of his experiences in the legislature in the past year. Many of the leaders in the various rural communities and rural organizations in the county have been attending this forum for the past four years.

The meetings, open to the public, will be held on the first and third Monday nights of each month during the winter, with the exception of Jan. 1.

The program committee has planned an interesting series of meetings for this winter. Members of the committee are Mrs. Russell Miller, Mrs. Sam Tritten, Mrs. W. W. Watkins, Mrs. John Ward, Columbus; Mrs. C. H. Hadden, Columbus; Mrs. R. R. Barber, Salem; Paul Palmer, Hanoverton; E. C. Holloway, Kensington; Gilbert Edgerton, Hanoverton; W. J. Hays, Kensington; Floyd Lower, Lisbon.

Dr. Frank D. Slutz Addresses Students, Kiwanis, Church Club

Dr. Frank D. Slutz, Dayton lecturer and well-known educator, delivered talks to three different gatherings in the city yesterday.

He addressed the student body at Salem High school in the morning, spoke to the Kiwanis club members at noon in the Memorial building and climaxed his visit with the principal address of the evening at the banquet of the Methodist Men's club at the church.

"Let X Equal My Vocation" was the subject of his interesting talk to the High school students. Afterwards he gave pointers to the Juniors and Seniors at separate discussion periods.

The Kiwanians heard him speak on "Finding a Vocational Highway." He was presented by Supt. Earl S. Kerr.

Warns Against Trickery

"Making Good With Others" the talk he delivered at the Methodist church affair, conveyed suggestions for winning friends and getting along with people. He warned listeners against trickery and false goodwill in making friends with others.

"We should have an earnest desire to help others," he said. "Meet

AKRON, Dec. 1.—Akron unions affiliated with the CIO resumed last night their weekly radio program, "Voice of Labor," after the broadcasts were cancelled several weeks ago by station WJW. The program, which speakers said would be broadcast on Thursday nights for the present, were presented over facilities of station WABC. Station WJW said cancellation was in accordance with a recently adopted policy of the National Association of Broadcasters against carrying controversial broadcasts on paid time.

Massillon Strike Figures Pardoned

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Release within 11 to 13 months lay ahead today for three Massillon men convicted and sentenced to one to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary for possession of explosives during the "Little Steel" strike of 1937.

The Ohio pardon and parole commission ordered Herman Herzog conditionally released to Stark county authorities Nov. 1, 1940, to be paroled Jan. 2, 1941; Jessie Rentonia, to be paroled Jan. 2, 1941; and Omer Williams, to be released conditionally Nov. 1, 1940, to Illinois authorities and, if not wanted, to be paroled Jan. 2, 1941. The three were committed to the penitentiary in October, 1937.

"Making Good With Others" the talk he delivered at the Methodist church affair, conveyed suggestions for winning friends and getting along with people. He warned his listeners against trickery and false goodwill in making friends with others.

"We should have an earnest desire to help others," he said. "Meet people on an equal ground; make the truth attractive, tell the facts and avoid lies," he urged. He brought out incidents and stories to make the points of his talk more realistic.

Eighty persons were present for the dinner which was served by the women of the church. Harold M. Williams served as toastmaster and Joe Pales led the group singing. Vocal solos were sung by John G. Vett of Diamond, accompanied by Homer Taylor.

At a short business session the Men's club elected William Merry as president to succeed Williams. Other officers are: Vice president, W. L. Hart; secretary-treasurer, Harold Wykoff; program chairman, Harold Williams.

Machinist Burns To Death In Home

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1. — John H. Harrington, 87, burned to death early today in his machine shop at the rear of his home in the Ohio State university district. Three students living in a trailer parked beside the building were menaced by the flames.

Firemen reported that Harrington apparently fell asleep in the shop and that the blaze started from an overheated stove.

The students, Walter Chapinsky and Joe Kiren of Youngstown and Joe DePaola of Warren sought to enter the building but were pushed back by the flames. They were forced to move their trailer-residence out of range of the fire.

Seeking More Air Corps Funds

Major L. W. Miller (left) and General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, go over their data prior to testifying before the House appropriations committee in Washington. Congress is in adjournment, but the important committee work continues. The army seeks increased funds to bring the U. S. defense machine to peak efficiency.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Americans may be donning gas masks soon for protection against hay fever, asthma and allergic manifestations. Dr. Walter N. Boothby of Rochester has invented a mask for just such purposes.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The state division of highways has announced that 473,000 shubs and 7,000 trees have been set out so far this year along Illinois roads and highways.

LEGAL NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals for furnishing of materials and the performance of all labor required for cement driveways, additions to and alterations of building, for the Salem High School, will be received by the Board of Education, Salem City School District, Salem, Ohio, at the office of the Clerk of the Board of Education, until 12:00 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on Monday, December 11, 1939, and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The proposed work consists of general construction, also all mechanical trades, etc., in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by Kling & Canfield, Architects, for the said Board of Education.

Copies of plans, specifications and contract documents are on file at the office of the Clerk of the Board, where they are available for inspection by prospective bidders and for estimating bids. Bidders may secure plans and specifications by making request at the office of the Architects and making a deposit of $10.00 which will be returned if plans and specifications are returned within 10 days after opening of bids. A deduction approximately equal to the cost of reproduction will be made from refunds to non-bidders providing plans and specifications are returned within 5 days after issuance.

Proposals must contain the name of every person interested therein and shall be accompanied by either a proposal bond in the amount of 2% of the total bid, with surety satisfactory to the Board of Education, or by certified check on a solvent bank in the amount of not less than 2% of the basic bid drawn in favor of the Board of Education of Salem City School District, Salem, Ohio. Proposal bonds shall be accompanied by proof of authority of the official or agent signing the bond, together with a recent financial statement of the surety company.

The proposal bond or certified check submitted with a bid will be held as a guarantee that if the proposal is accepted, a contract will be entered into.

The bid deposit of all except the three lowest bidders will be returned within three days after the opening of bids. The bid deposit of the three lowest bidders will be returned within 48 hours after the execution of contract and required bonds have been finally approved by the owner.

Attention of the bidder is called to the special Construction Regulations which are included in and made a part of the proposed contract documents and to the special requirements for procurement of labor, wages, rates and hours of employment. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of 30 days after receipt of his bid. Particular attention is called to the statutory requirements of the State of Ohio relative to licensing of corporations organized under the laws of any other State.

Contracts will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder in accordance with laws of the State of Ohio. The right is reserved by the Board of Education to reject any all bids and to waive informalities. By Order of the Board of Education, Salem City School District, Salem, Ohio.

SCORES SOVIET RESORT TO ARMS

FDR Asks Belligerents to Save Civilians From "Barbarism"

numerous messages from Americans expressing sympathy for his country and indignation at Russia's invasion of the little Baltic republic.

In his message to the Russian and Finnish governments—which read almost word for word like his previous appeal to Germany and the Allies—the President asked both countries to avoid a resort to the "inhuman, senseless" of aerial attacks on civilian centers.

"Solemn Civilized World," Mr. Roosevelt said, "the ruthless bombings from the air of civilians in unfortified centers of population" recently had resulted "in the maiming and in the death of thousands of defenseless men, women and children" and had "sickened the hearts of every civilized man and woman."

"If resort is had to this form of inhuman, barbarism during the period of the tragic conflagration with which the world is now confronted," the President continued, "hundreds of thousands of innocent human beings who are not even remotely participating in hostilities will lose their lives."

"I am therefore addressing this appeal to the Soviet government (Finnish government in the message to Helsinki) publicly to affirm its determination that its armed forces shall in no event, and under no circumstances, undertake the bombardment from the air of civilian populations or of unfortified cities, upon the understanding that these same rules of warfare will be scrupulously observed by all of their opponents."

"I request an immediate reply," he said.

At the time of the President's appeal, officials waited primarily to see what answer would come from Russia, which some authorities estimate has 7,000 military planes. They were confident that Finland with 150 warplanes would acquiesce promptly.

This government also concerned itself with numerous other questions of foreign policy raised by the Russian invasion.

Problems involving the neutrality act were foremost, but reports in some well-advised quarters were that application of the law to the Russian-Finnish situation might be delayed.

Leetonia Red Cross Chairman Selected

LEETONIA, Dec. 1.—J. Leif Heit has been named chairman of the 1940 Red Cross roll call.

L. E. Fisher has been appointed chairman of the Christmas Seal sale in Salem township. Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring a benefit card party at High school building at 8 p. m. Monday. Miss Kathryn Lodge is chairman.

Captain Morris Rees, a Senior and Ernest A. Tomare, a Sophomore have been named on the 1939 all-county football team. Domin Stumpo, a Sophomore, received honorable mention. Rees was named to end position and Altmare, tackle.

Nutrition Project On Dinner Making Attracts Throng

WINONA, Dec. 1—Miss Erma Ramsayer, home demonstration agent, assisted by Mrs. Wilmer Satterthwaite and Mrs. Charles Berger, township leaders, conducted the first of two nutrition projects, "Adventures with Dinners," Wednesday at the Methodist church. The second, "Luncheon or Supper Dishes" will be discussed early next year.

There were 68 women present. Several dinner dishes were prepared and food values discussed.

Mrs. Richard Stamp was chosen to represent Butler Township in planning a county day, to which the women from all townships will rally.

Charles Hutton, Ohio State university, spent Thanksgiving at his home here, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hutton took him to Columbus Sunday.

Guests In Ewing Home
Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ewing, Hanoverton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Ewing.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sidwell are visiting in Iowa.

Several Winona people attended the homecoming at Barnesville Boarding School recently.

Donald Starbuck has returned home from the Central Clinic, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Charles Hoopes suffered a broken arm when she fell at her home Monday.

Cameron Satterthwaite of Wooster college spent Thanksgiving at his home here.

Keep going at your normal pace. Work and play in comfort and safety. The modern, lightweight truss we will fit to your individual physical requirements will securely hold the rupture, giving positive support and perfect comfort.

INVENTOR TELLS OF DEATH RAY

Expert To Tell of Developments At Convention Dec. 5-8

OAKLAND, Calif.—The United States already has a death ray, according to Albert G. Burns, president of the Inventors of America, who will speak at the annual convention of the association, which will be held here from Dec. 5-8.

What America can do in these respects as well as in thousands of other ways will be made public, he said, at the annual convention of the association, which will be held here from Dec. 5-8.

The picture of the future will be made from plastic material, he said, and will be molded in place by piece, rather than by thousands of planes as is not a dream, Burns insisted. "We know how to use plastic materials and we can pour out—and I mean pour out—airplane shells like waffles."

Burns, 51 years old, is the inventor of the sawtooth bread knife and various kinds of automobile accessories.

Just returned from Lakewood, O., to complete arrangements for the annual convention and demonstration of the inventions of the Inventors of America, Burns declared:

"The death ray that has been perfected at Lakewood is already effective in the killing of dogs, cats and mice instantly. I witnessed the demonstration there and the development of this ray has war possibilities in it."

On his trip east, Burns collected a large number of the latest inventions and gadgets that will be exhibited at the convention.

Among these is a perpetual motion rat trap, invented by a Minneapolis man. The trap is a little box filled with mirrors. A piece of these hangs from the roof.

When a rat peeks in, it sees only the reflections of the piece of cheese so numerous as to make it think it would be a perpetual rats banquet.

When the rodent dashes in, the trap springs, and all that is necessary is to remove the body and the trap is ready for the next rat.

WINNIPEG, Man.—Manitoba's forestry training camp for single men on relief will soon be deserted if the army continues to call for volunteers, a statement issued by Arthur MacNamara, provincial registrar, indicates. About 150 of the 200 young men at the Sandilands camp have offered themselves for service.

INVENTOR TELLS OF DEATH RAY

Expert To Tell of Developments At Convention Dec. 5-8

OAKLAND, Calif.—The United States already has a death ray available for war and facilities for manufacturing thousands of airplanes in days rather than in months of years, Albert G. Burns, president of the Inventors of America, has revealed.

What America can do in these respects as well as in thousands of others will be made public, he said, at the annual convention of the association, which will be held here from Dec. 5-8.

The airplane of the future will be made from plastic material, he announced, and will be molded instead of being built piece by piece.

Turning out thousands of planes a day is not a dream, Burns insisted. "We know how to use plastic materials and we can pour out—and I mean pour out—airplane shells like waffles."

Burns, 51 years old, is the inventor of the sawtooth bread knife and various kinds of automobile jacks.

Just returned from Lakewood, O., to complete arrangements for the annual convention and demonstration of the inventions of the Inventors of America, Burns declared:

"The death ray that has been perfected at Lakewood is already effective in the killing of dogs, cats and mice instantly. I witnessed the demonstration there and the development of this ray has war potentialities in it."

On his trip east, Burns collected a large number of the latest inventions and gadgets that will be exhibited at the convention.

Among these is a perpetual motion rat trap, invented by a Minnesota man. The trap is a little box filled with mirrors. A piece of cheese hangs from the roof.

When a rat peeks in, it sees only the reflections of the piece of cheese, so numerous as to make it think it would be a perpetual rats banquet.

When the rodent dashes in, the trap springs, and all that is necessary is to remove the body and the trap is ready for the next rat.

WINNIPEG, Man.—Manitoba's forestry training camp for single men on relief will soon be deserted if the army continues to call for volunteers, a statement issued by Arthur MacNamara, provincial relief officer, indicates. About 150 of the 300 young men at the Sandilands camp have offered themselves for service.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL BOWLS BEGINNING TO FILL

TEXAS AGGIES CLOSE SEASON WITH 20-0 WIN

Tennessee Continues Unbeaten By Stopping Kentucky, 19-0

By JUDSON BAILEY
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Half filled now, a couple of the football bowls are going to be tanked right up to the brim before the week is over if the same form that held good in yesterday's juicy Thanksgiving day menu doesn't spoil before Saturday.

The Texas Aggies completed an undefeated season of ten games with a 20-0 conquest of their old rivals, the University of Texas Longhorns, and the mighty Tennessee Volunteers edged the Kentucky Wildcats 19-0 to extend their undefeated and unscored upon string right up to the final fray of the season.

These developments, as half the country observed the calendar holiday, gave the two winners everything they needed to get to the Rose and Sugar bowls except the railroad tickets.

Settle Other Half
The other halves of the contests in these two spectacles are likely to be filled to the satisfaction of the public on Saturday when Southern California attempts to hurdle a so-so Washington eleven and Tulane tackles its most bitter foe, Louisiana State.

Providing U. S. C. and Tulane triumph, their assignments for next New Year's day already are laid out for them. The Trojans will be hosts in the Rose Bowl and the Green Wave will receive at the Sugar Bowl. There is no reason to believe that either will miss their parties.

While attention already has turned to the gridiron's post-season activities, there still are some attractive morsels of the regular program remaining.

The prospective Rose Bowl rivals have games pending on Dec. 9. Southern Cal against UCLA and Tennessee against Auburn.

The Army-Navy vanderbilt performance is booked for Philadelphia's Municipal stadium tomorrow with more than 100,000 persons expected. In New York, Yale will be against Dartmouth, and NYU Stanford. In Boston the fans will have Boston college and Holy Cross in one of the fiercest of feuds.

Other Games
On other sectional fronts the rambling wreck of Georgia Tech tied for the Southeastern conference title, will scrap with Georgia; undefeated Duke will jump into Detroit, and Southern Methodist and Texas Christian and Baylor and Rice collide.

Yesterday's firing, cost Rutgers its first defeat as the Brown Bears scored twice in the final period for a 13-0 decision.

One conference championship was settled as Colorado captured a wild 28-15 from Denver in the Rocky mountains Big Seven.

Alabama's slow-starting steam roller flattened Vanderbilt 39-0, once-beaten North Carolina walloped Virginia 19-0, and Florida escaped with a 7-7 tie against Auburn when the game ended with the Tigers on the two-yard line.

Little San Jose State preserved its place among the nation's undefeated and untied leaders with a 12-0 victory over Drake in one of the Pacific coast's several night games. Unbeaten but often tied UCLA finished strong for a 24-7 decision over Washington State in another.

SERVICE TEAMS SET FOR CLASH

Army-Navy game attracts Crowd of 100,000 To Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The city tingled with excitement today as football forces of the Army and Navy trained sights on their annual gold braided classic.

Encamped at suburban Country clubs, the rival contingents staged dress rehearsals—each grimly confident of winning tomorrow's skirmish on the dyed greenward of Municipal stadium.

Downtown hotel lobbies began swarming with the vanguard of the 100,000 persons who are expected to see the game.

Everyone seemed bursting with good spirits save the speculators. They were glum over the dictum that tickets sold at more than $4.40 each would be turned down at the gate.

Resorting to such subterfuges as the "gift" of a ticket with a tie that sold for as much as $10, the scalpers made modest headway. Still, many fans were chary of such dealings, and so left the smart boys behind the proverbial eight ball.

The betting gentry installed Army as the 7-5 favorite, but the gobs from the Navy yard were willing in quite a few cases to lay even money that their colleagues from Annapolis would scuttle the West Pointers.

You can take your choice, but to the Middies' coach, "Swede" Larson, "it's still a Navy year." The Army mentors ventured not a word about the outcome. They merely smiled.

U. of Chicago Ponders Over Dropping Out Of Football

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Can the University of Chicago, which has not won a Big Ten game in three seasons, absorb another gridiron beating such as the merciless one taken by the Maroons this fall and still remain in major college football? The answer, supplied by inquiry on the campus, apparently is an emphatic "no."

REISER LEADS ALL-OHIO TEAM

Bob Bloom, Hiram Signal Barker, Selected As Quarterback

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Recognition of gridiron greatness came to eight seniors and three juniors today as college coaches placed 11 stars on the 1939 Associated Press All-Ohio team, to which players on all squads except Ohio State were eligible.

Dayton, Western Reserve and Ohio university of the unattached group placed two each on the all-star eleven, while single berths went to Toledo, Baldwin Wallace and Muskingum of the Ohio conference, and to unattached Hiram and Ohio Wesleyan.

Ohio Wesleyan's Jim Reiser, senior end, led the balloting and won the captaincy of the All-Ohio. The star wing, from New Philadelphia, who shunned football as a freshman and sophomore, caught 36 passes during the year for a gain of 527 yards. He scored three touchdowns on aerials, and tossed laterals for touchdowns after taking two other passes.

Last year, in his first season of college football, he caught the pass against Miami that gave the Fighting Bishops their only victory of the campaign.

Bob Bloom of Albion N. Y., Hiram's fiery quarterback, won over all opposition for the quarterback berth. The triple-threat signal-caller, first, terror to win All-Ohio recognition in years, scored 87 points to finish second in the state's scoring list.

Other Backs
With Bloom in the backfield were three other lightweights. They were Dan Rea, Ohio university's demon passer, boasting one of the best aerial averages in the country; John Lucas, game-breaking star of Western Reserve; and Jack Padley, Dayton's great ball-toter.

Opposite Reiser at end was Howard Wertman of Ohio university, who was on the receiving end of many of Reiser's heaves. Tackle positions went to Dayton's Tony Fure, and Muskingum's D. Evans, a couple of six-footers who tipped the beam near the 200-pound mark. Don Bokovich, Toledo's Little All-America guard, and Bill Childress of Baldwin Wallace, who captained the All-Ohio Conference honorary team, moved in at the guards, while Brady Sullivan of Western Reserve was the standout at center.

Sullivan, who failed to make the Big-Four team in the Cleveland sector, showed to such advantage against foes in other parts of the state that he was voted into the state-wide power job by a heavy margin.

The first string line averages 184 pounds, and just under six feet in height. The "pony" backfield averages 161 pounds, and about five feet nine.

Frankie Zazula, Akron's first-brand back, was named captain of the second team, while Keel of Ohio Northern quarterback, won leadership of the third team.

GRID FOLLOWERS SPONSOR DINNER HONORING SQUAD

R. W. Hawley Explains Aim of Newly-Organized Boosters' Club

The initial step toward development of a Boosters' club to support Salem High school athletics and associated activities was taken last night by a group of Salem business and professional men, who, as a means of expressing their good will and interest in local scholastic sports, entertained members of the Quakers varsity football squad at a banquet at the Memorial building.

A chicken dinner was served to 35 football players and a like number of men, including Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr, Faculty Manager Frederick E. Cope, Coach Carl F. Schroeder and Assistant Coaches Ted Jones and Frank Gordon. R. W. Hawley, publisher of The Salem News, who presided over the banquet, spoke briefly, explaining that the dinner was given the football players as a testimonial from men outside of the school who wish the students and athletes to know that they maintain a constant interest in the school.

Represent Large Group

"The men present at this dinner represent an even larger group of men many of whom could not be here tonight, who are vitally interested in the school," Hawley said. "We want you boys to know that."

Hawley pointed out that the dinner was given the football players in recognition of the spirit shown by them on the field, win, lose or draw. "We have admired that spirit," he declared.

Explaining the newly-formed Boosters' club, Hawley said: "With the thought that as an organized group we can better display our interest and support, we have started an organization called the Salem Boosters' club. Three men—F. E. Campbell, T. Emerson Smith and J. M. Kelley—started the club movement and a great many others have subscribed to it."

"There is nothing professional or commercial to the movement. It is interested primarily in character building through athletics of the High School. We hope, from a public standpoint, to develop that in every way possible."

Hawley continued: "While the football season has been completed, it is still early in the school term, and there remains plenty of time for the club to show the spirit and moral support it has available."

Hawley closed his explanatory remarks by pointing out that it is not the intention of the club to interfere in the operation of the school.

Rather to show school officials that they have behind them an organized group of men, many of them former local athletes, who, through the organization, offer moral support to the school.

Evidence of Support
Replying to Hawley's remarks, Supt. Kerr cited the organization as "tangible evidence of the cooperation and backing given the school by the community."

Kerr said he appreciated the spirit behind the men undertaking the movement, adding: "I know their motives are of the best." He concluded: "Anything you do to help the school, its athletics and organizations, is appreciated. We have one object and that is your object."

L. H. Colley, president of the First National bank, praised the Boosters' club idea, labeling it as a good thing for the school and the men who are in the organization.

Expressions of thanks for the banquet were given prior to Supt. Kerr's remarks by Bob Shoe, senior end, in behalf of the football team, and Faculty Manager Cope in behalf of the coaches and faculty.

Baseball Leaders Arriving in Cin

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—Holding back their bids like buyers at a country auction and just as eager to see what goes on the black baseball executives were arriving today for their annual confab next week. Representatives of 41 leagues that played during 1939 and four more scheduled to start next year will gather around when Judge W. C. Bramham of Durham, N. C., president of the National League of Professional Baseball Leagues of America gives the official signal to "see what we have here."

All will be ready to put the critical eye on players and most everything connected with baseball.

LISBON OPENS SEASON DEC. 8

Blue Devils Face Youngstown Woodrow Wilson In Cage Opener

LISBON, Dec. 1.—Lisbon High school's basketball squad will open its 1939-40 season Friday evening, Dec. 8, meeting Woodrow Wilson High of Youngstown on local hardwoods.

The Blue Devils return to action Saturday facing a new opponent, Malvern High school.

Although all of last year's varsity was lost through graduation, Coach Howard Zienke is pinning his hopes on several members of last year's reserve squad which had an extremely successful season.

Leading prospects are Andy Cartwright, Phil Hendricks, Wilbur Robinson, Phil Rodi, Harry Devan, Don Loch, Jack Frankfort and Paul Stockman. These boys with Stark, a 6-4, 160-lb. newcomer, who look like the Blue and White through their 20-game schedule, which will include 10 games at home and 10 abroad as follows:

- Dec. 8—Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, here.
- Dec. 9—Malvern High, here.
- Dec. 15—Salem, there.
- Dec. 16—Youngstown Fitch, there.
- Dec. 22—Columbiana, here.
- Jan. 6—Wellsville, here.
- Jan. 12—Boardman, here.
- Jan. 19—Columbiana, there.
- Jan. 20—Campbell Memorial, here.
- Jan. 24—Carrollton, there.
- Jan. 27—Chester, W. Va., here.

- Feb. 16—Sebring, there.
- Feb. 17—Newton Falls, here.
- Feb. 23—Louisville, there.
- Feb. 24—East Liverpool, here.

Open Cage Season

DEFIANCE, Dec. 1.—Defeating Indiana Tech of Fort Wayne, Ind., 32 to 26 last night, Defiance college auspiciously opened its home basketball schedule. Topping individual scoring for Defiance was forward Lord with 12 points.

Takes Advantage Of New Cage Rule

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—Maple Heights High school's basketball team took advantage of a new basketball rule and refused three foul throws in the closing minutes of its game with Cleveland John Hay last night to win 28 to 27.

The rule provides the offended team may waive throws and put the ball in play from the side lines. The heights team did this all three times to keep possession of the ball and protect the one-point lead.

Portsmouth Mayor Declares Holiday

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 1.—Portsmouth residents after celebrating two Thanksgiving days in as many weeks, have another holiday coming up tomorrow.

Mayor Harold Clayton today pronounced Saturday, Dec. 2, as "Trojan Booster Day" and urged the city's residents to "continue their moral support of Portsmouth High school's football squad and accompany the team to Columbus" for the first annual Buckeye Bowl game with Toledo Waite.

Fight Results

BALTIMORE—Pat Comiskey, 203 Jersey City, stopped Maynard Daniels, 193, Montco, N. C. (5). ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Bobby Jones, 163, Atlantic City, outpointed young Gene Buffalo, 154, Philadelphia, (10).

Honor Player

TOLEDO, Dec. 1.—Ohio's outstanding college football player will be honored at the annual dinner of the Toledo Downtown coaches Dec. 15, with Coach Elmer Lyden of Notre Dame as speaker.

Wrestling Results

ST. LOUIS—Cliff Gustafson, 240, Genivick, Minn., threw Everett Marshall, 225, La Junta, Colo., (30-43).

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Ace Parker, the football star, can manage the Portsmouth club in the Piedmont league next year if he wants to. He's a Portsmouth boy and red hot down there.

Jack Dempsey hops off for Manila tomorrow to referee Ceferno Garcia vs Glen Lee, for which he will collect $7,500. One dope is Judge Landis was only warming up when he knocked those times on the Brooklyn, Dayton and Columbus clubs.

What about the Michigan Wolverines leaving Nip Kinnick off their all-opponent team? Try to add that one up.

Thornhill To Temple

A coast rumor has Tiny Thornhill headed for Temple with another coast coach (now employed) succeeding Tiny at Stanford. Who is it—Jimmy Phelan? Benefactor, Col. E. R. Bradley's 1938 Kentucky Derby hope, which went lame, will try a comeback on the Florida tracks this winter.

Friends of Doc Sutherland say he has four definite offers, three of which are believed to be from West Virginia, Rice and Lafayette. The Athletics will try to land Hank Greenberg at Cincinnati next week.

Frank Crummitt, the radio star, has written a victory song for Ohio State.

Looks like the business of exporting football players, long one of the principal industries in West Virginia soil coal regions, will reach a new high this year. The Rev. Edward Belanger of Clarksburg, has been doing a little research work and he finds no less than 28 lads from that section in front line positions on major eleven from Rhode Island to California and as far south as Georgia (Tech).

Mail Box
"How about a 4-C backfield for the 1939 All-America—Cafego Crain, Christmas and Cassano?" Jim Cullinan, Warren, Ohio.

For a real Joe Coach we give you Bill King of Long Island. Last Saturday he played 60 minutes of bruising football against Catholic U., then grabbed a sandwich and played through an entire game of basketball.

Clark Awarded Culver Letter

Robert Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark of 975 Franklin st., has been awarded a varsity football letter at Culver Military academy at Culver, Ind.

Clark played halfback for the Flying Squadron which won six games last year and tied one during the 1939 campaign.

Among 28 freshmen football players awarded numerals at Wittenberg college, Springfield, was Everett (Bud) Dean of Salem, who graduated from Salem High school last June after starting for the Quakers in football.

Charles Yeager, another former Salem High school grid star, recently received his numerals at Muskingum college.

OHIO'S LEADING PREP TEAMS TO MEET SATURDAY

Buckeye Bowl Game Pits Portsmouth Against Toledo Waite

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—The Ohio's top high school grid team—Toledo Waite and Portsmouth—invade the state capital today for Saturday's first annual "Buckeye Bowl" game in Ohio State university's stadium.

Waite, 11-time Toledo champion and national king in 1932, has won 10 straight contests this season while Portsmouth has won one and tied one, and hasn't been beaten in its last 24 starts.

This year Waite scored 319 points while allowing 38, and Portsmouth garnered 225 to 24 for the four cases Lindholm, beaten 42 to 14, was the only school able to stand against Waite, and the Windy City boys did it against the fourth stringers after Waite was out in front 42 to 0.

High-Scoring Team

Waite scored 27 or more in every game except the tilt with Toledo Central Catholic, that being 14 to 7.

On the other hand, no team scored more than one against Portsmouth, while the Trojans counted three or more touchdowns against every foe except Middletown which tied Portsmouth 3-0 in a storm-swept field in a night game.

Both clubs were to arrive about noon today, with the Trojans kicking out at the Buck stadium from 1:30 to 2:30, and Waite from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Game time Saturday is 2 p. m. but hours before that the campus will be closed to traffic as the Trojans conditions prevail for the contest. The university's electric scoreboard and loud-speaker system will be in action, and the Buckers band will "do its stuff" before the game and between halves.

Waite will be headlined through the loss of Bob Hecklinger, star ball-toter and pass thrower, who suffered a broken collar bone in the Thanksgiving day game with Toledo Scott, in which Waite clinched the city title.

Colons Ready

The Trojans were reported in tip-top shape and they aimed their hopes on a stalwart line. Full back Jim Barker's all-around play, and Paul Kline's passing, Toledo line, coached by Frank Paul of South Carolina, is rated one of Toledo's best, but the backfield muddled up by the injury to Hecklinger and the ineptitude of fullback Mike Sceptropt, is a question mark.

Louis Sharkoff, 180 pounds, will fill Hecklinger's halfback berth, aided by Bob Wolff, undersized quarterback. Gene Bumpus, 165 pounds, a line power runner, will play fullback. Kenneth (Jack) MoLenkoff of Bowling Green is head coach of the Waite team, while Paul Jenkins, former U. of Kentucky quarterback, guides the Trojans.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL BOWLS BEGINNING TO FILL

TEXAS AGGIES CLOSE SEASON WITH 20-0 WIN

Tennessee Continues Unbeaten By Stopping Kentucky, 19-0

By JUDSON BAILEY
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Half filled now, a couple of the football bowls are going to be tanked right up to the brim before the week is over. If the same form that held good in yesterday's juley Thanksgiving day menu doesn't spill before Saturday.

The Texas Aggies completed an undefeated season of ten games with a 20-0 conquest of their old rival, the University of Texas Longhorns, and the mighty Tennessee Volunteers caged the Kentucky Wildcats 19-0 to extend their undefeated and unscathed upon string right up to the final fray of the season.

These developments, as half the country observed, the calendar holiday gave the two winners everything they needed to get to the Rose and Sugar bowls except the railroad tickets.

Settle Other Half
The other halves of the casts in these two spectacles are likely to be filled to the satisfaction of the public on Saturday when Southern California attempts to hurdle a so-so Washington eleven and Tulane tackles its most bitter foe, Louisiana State.

Providing U. S. C. and Tulane triumph, their assignments for next New Year's day already are laid out for them. The Trojans will be hosts in the Rose Bowl and the Green Wave will receive at the Sugar Bowl. There is no reason to believe that either will miss their parties.

While attention already has turned to the gridiron's post-season activities, there still are some attractive morsels of the regular program remaining.

The prospective Rose Bowl rivalry have games pending, Dec. 9, Southern Cal against UCLA and Tennessee against Auburn.

The Army-Navy van derbilt performance is booked for Philadelphia's Municipal stadium tomorrow with more than 100,000 persons expected. In New York there'll be Stanford and Dartmouth, and NYU against Fordham. In Boston the fans will have Boston college and Holy Cross in one of the fiercest of feuds.

Other Games
On other sectional fronts the rambling wreck of Georgia Tech tied for the Southeastern conference title, will scrap with Georgia, undefeated Drexel slumps into Detroit, and Southern Methodist and Texas Christian and Baylor and Rice collide.

Yesterday's firing cost Rutgers its first defeat as the Brown Bears scored twice in the final period for a 13-0 decision.

One conference championship was settled as Colorado captured a wild 26-16 fracas from Denver in the Rocky mountains' Big Seven.

Alabama's slow-starting steam roller flattened Vanderbilt 39-0, once-beaten North Carolina walloped Virginia 19-0, and Florida escaped with a 7-7 tie against Auburn when the game ended with the Tigers on the two-yard line.

Little Star Jose State preserved its place among the nation's undefeated and untied leaders with a 12-0 victory over Drake in one of the Pacific coast's several night games. Unbeaten but often tied UCLA finished strong for a 24-7 decision over Washington State in another.

SERVICE TEAMS SET FOR CLASH

Army-Navy game attracts Crowd of 100,000 To Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The city tingled with excitement today as football forces of the Army and Navy trained sights on their annual gold braid classic.

Encamped at suburban Country clubs, the rival contingents staged dress rehearsals—each grimly confident of winning tomorrow's skirmish on the dyed greensward of Municipal stadium.

Downtown hotel lobbies began swarming with the vanguard of the 100,000 persons who are expected to see the game.

Everyone seemed bursting with good spirits save the speculators. They were glum over the dictum that tickets sold at more than $4.40 each would be turned down at the gate.

Resorting to such subterfuges as the "gift" of a ticket with a tie that sold for as much as $10 the scalpers made modest headway. Still, many fans were chary of such dealings, and so left the smart boys behind the proverbial eight ball.

The betting gentry installed Army as the 7-5 favorite, but the gobs from the Navy yard were willing in quite a few cases to lay even money that their colleagues from Annapolis would scuttle the West Pointers.

You can take your choice, but to the Middies' coach, "Swede" Larson, "It's still a Navy year." The Army mentors ventured not a word about the outcome. They merely smiled.

U. of Chicago Ponders Over Dropping Out Of Football

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Can the University of Chicago, which has not won a Big Ten game in three seasons, absorb another gridiron beating such as the merciless one taken by the Maroons this fall and still remain in major college football? The answer, supplied by inquiry on the campus, apparently is an emphatic "no."

REISER LEADS ALL-OHIO TEAM

Bob Bloom, Hiram Signal Quarterback

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Recognition of gridiron greatness came to eight seniors and three juniors today as college coaches placed 11 stars on the 1939 Associated Press All-Ohio team, to which players on all squads except Ohio State were eligible.

Dayton, Western Reserve and Ohio University of the unattached group placed two each on the all-star eleven, while single berths went to Toledo, Baldwin Wallace and Muskingum of the Ohio conference, and to unmatched Hiram and Ohio Wesleyan.

Ohio Wesleyan's Jim Reiser, senior end, led the balloting and won the captaincy of the All-Ohio. The star wing, from New Philadelphia who shunned football as a freshman and sophomore, caught 36 passes during the year for a gain of 527 yards. He scored three touchdowns on aerials, and tossed laterals for touchdowns after taking two other passes.

Last year, in his first season of college football, he caught the pass against Miami that gave the Battling Bishops their only victory of the campaign.

Bob Bloom of Albion, N. Y., Hiram's fiery quarterback, won over all opposition for the quarterback berth. The triple-threat signal-caller, first Terrier to win All-Ohio recognition in years, scored 87 points to finish second in the state's scoring list.

Other Backs

With Bloom in the backfield were three other lightweights. They were Dan Risatti, Ohio university's demon passer boasting one of the best aerial averages in the country; John Lucas, game-breaking star of Western Reserve; and Jack Padley, Dayton's great ball-toter.

Opposite Reiser at end was Howard Wertman of Ohio university, who was on the receiving end of many of Risatti's heaves. Tackle positions went to Dayton's Tony Furst, and Muskingum's D. Evans, a couple of six-footers who tipped the beam near the 200-pound mark.

Dan Bokovich, Toledo's Little All-America guard, and Bill Childress of Baldwin Wallace, who captained the All-Ohio Conference honorary team, moved in at the guards, while Brady Sullivan of Western Reserve was the strident at center.

Sullivan, who failed to make the Big-Four team in the Cleveland sector, showed to such advantage against foes in other parts of the state that he was voted into the state-wide pivot job by a heavy margin.

The first string line averages 184 pounds, and just under six feet in height. The "pony" backfield averages 161 pounds, and about five feet nine.

Frankie Zazula, Akron's fire-brand back, was named captain of the second team, while Keel of Ohio Northern quarterback, won leadership of the third team.

GRID FOLLOWERS SPONSOR DINNER HONORING SQUAD

R. W. Hawley Explains Aim of Newly-Organized Boosters' Club

The initial step toward development of a Boosters' club to support Salem High school athletics and associated activities was taken last night by a group of Salem business and professional men, who, as a means of expressing their good will and interest in local scholastic sports, entertained members of the Quakers varsity football squad at a banquet at the Memorial building.

A chicken dinner was served to 35 football players and a like number of men, including Supt. of Schools W. S. Kerr, Faculty Manager Frederick E. Cope, Coach Carl F. Schroeder and Assistant Coaches Ted Jones and Frank Gordon.

R. W. Hawley, publisher of The Salem News, who presided over the banquet, spoke briefly, explaining that the dinner was given the football players as a testimonial from men outside of the school who wish the students and athletes to know that they maintain a constant interest in the school.

Represent Large Group

"The men present at this dinner represent an even larger group of men, many of whom could not be here tonight, who are vitally interested in the school," Hawley said. "We want you boys to know that," he added.

Hawley pointed out that the dinner was given the football players in recognition of the spirit shown by them on the field, win, lose or draw. "We have admired that spirit," he declared.

Explaining the newly-formed Boosters' club, Hawley said: "With the thought that as an organized group we can better display our interest and support, we have started an organization called the Salem Boosters' club. Three men—F. E. Campbell, T. Emerson Smith and J. M. Kelley—started the club movement and a great many others have subscribed to it."

"There is nothing professional or commercial to the movement. It is interested primarily in character building through athletics of the High school. We hope, from a public standpoint, to develop that in every way possible."

Hawley continued: "While the football season has been completed, it is still early in the school term and there remains plenty of time for the club to show the spirit and moral support it has available."

Hawley closed his explanatory remarks by pointing out that it is the intention of the club to interfere in the operation of the school.

Further to show school officials that they have behind them an organization of men, many of them former local athletes, who, through the organization, offer moral support to the school.

Evidence of Support
Replying to Hawley's remarks, Supt. Kerr cited the organization as "tangible evidence of the cooperation and backing given the school by the community."

Kerr said he appreciated the spirit behind the men undertaking the movement, adding: "I know their motives are of the best. He indicated: "Anything you do to help the school, its athletics and organizations, is appreciated. We have one object and that is your object."

L. H. Colley, president of the First National bank, praised the Boosters' club idea, labeling it as a good thing for the school and the men who are in the organization.

Expressions of thanks for the banquet were given prior to Supt. Kerr's remarks by Bob Shoe, senior end, in behalf of the football team, and Faculty Manager Cope in behalf of the coaches and faculty.

that played during 1939 and four more scheduled to start next year will gather around when Judge W. C. Bramham of Durham, N. C., president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues of America gives the official signal for what we have here."

All will be ready to put the critical eye on players and most everything connected with baseball.

LISBON OPENS SEASON DEC. 8

Blue Devils Face Youngstown Woodrow Wilson In Cage Opener

LISBON, Dec. 1.—Lisbon High school's basketball squad will open its 1939-40 season Friday evening, Dec. 8, meeting Woodrow Wilson High of Youngstown on local hardwoods.

The Blue Devils return to action Saturday facing a new opponent, Malvern High school.

Although all of last year's varsity was lost through graduation, Coach Howard Ziemeke is planning his hopes on several members of last year's reserve squad which had an extremely successful season.

Leading prospects are Andy Cartwright, Bill Hendricks, Wilbur Robinson, Phil Rodi, Harry Devan, Don Loch, Jack Frankfort and Paul Stockman. These boys, with Stark and A. A. A. newcomers who look very promising, will probably carry the Blue and White through their 20-game schedule, which will include 10 games at home and 10 abroad as follows:

- Dec. 8—Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, here.
- Dec. 9—Malvern High, here.
- Dec. 15—Salem, there.
- Dec. 16—Youngstown Fitch, there.
- Dec. 22—Columbiana, here.
- Jan. 6—Wellsville, here.
- Jan. 12—Boardman, here.
- Jan. 19—Columbiana, there.
- Jan. 20—Campbell Memorial, here.
- Jan. 26—Carrollton, there.
- Jan. 27—Chester, W. Va., here.
- Feb. 2—Salineville, here.
- Feb. 3—New Waterford, there.
- Feb. 9—East Palestine, there.
- Feb. 10—Minerva, there.
- Feb. 16—Sebring, there.
- Feb. 17—Newton Falls, here.
- Feb. 23—Louisville, there.
- Feb. 24—East Liverpool, here.

Open Cage Season

DEFIANCE, Dec. 1.—Defeating Indiana Twp. of Fort Wayne, Ind., 32 to 26 last night, Defiance college triumphantly opened its home basketball schedule. Topping individual scoring for Defiance was forwarded Lord with 12 points.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Ace Parker, the football star, can manage the Portsmouth club in the Piedmont league next year if he wants to. He's a Portsmouth boy and red hot down there. Jack Dempsey hops off for Manila tomorrow to referee Cefirino Garcia vs Glen Lee, for which he will collect $7,500. Our dope is Judge Landis was only warming up when he clobbered those fines on the Brooklyn. Dayton and Columbus clubs. What about the Michigan Wolverines leaving Nile Kinnick off their all-opponent team? Try to add that one up.

Thornhill To Temple

A coast rumor has Tiny Thornhill headed for Temple with another coast coach (now employed) succeeding Tiny at Stanford. Who is it? Jimmy Phelan, Benefactor, Col. E. R. Bradley's 1938 Kentucky Derby hope, which went lame, will try a comeback on the Florida tracks this winter. Friends of Doc Sutherland say he has four definite offers, three of which are believed to be from West Virginia, Rice and Lafayette. The Athletics will try to land Hank Greenberg at Cincinnati next week. Frank Crummitt, the radio star, has written a victory song for Ohio State.

Looks like the business of exporting football players, long one of the principal industries in West Virginia soft coal regions, will reach a new high this year.

The Rev. Edward E. Bangs, of Clarksburg, has been doing a little research work and he finds no less than 28 lads from that section in front line positions on major eleven from Rhode Island to California and as far south as Georgia (Tech).

Clark Awarded Culver Letter

Robert Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark of 975 Franklin st., has been awarded a varsity football letter at Culver Military academy at Culver, Ind.

Clark played halfback for the Flying Squadron which won six games, lost two and tied one during the 1939 campaign.

Among 28 freshmen football players awarded numerals at Wittenberg college, Springfield, was Everett (Bud) Dean of Salem, who graduated from Salem High school last June after starting for the Quakers in football.

Charles Yeager, another former Salem High school grid star, recently received his numerals at Muskingum college.

The Odd Fellows now trail the place team by two and one game. Red Pelton, the place team, posted three wins over the place team to remain in place. Pelton fired games of 236 and 238 for a 626 series.

Other leading individual series for the night included a 602 series by Earl Patterson of the Ohio Bell and a 593 set by Tony Baulo of Berg Bretzeles. Poulos series featured a 240 single game.

The Shippers dropped from first place in the Electric Furnace league to the Masonic Temple lanes, giving the place team a 240 series. The Shippers took out of three games from the Electricians. The Office took the Shippers three straight games to oust them from the place position.

The Draftsmen took over second place by winning two out of three games with the Machinists, while the other match the cellar-ranked Transformers upset the Structural

Farmers Take Thrifty Short-Cut Through School Of Hard Knocks

(By United Press)
 SWANNANOVA, N. C.—Gone are the days when ambitious farmers pursued their studies in the school of hard knocks. Gone, too, are the losses of thousands of dollars through ventures that proved unworkable. Today western North Carolina farmers make their mistakes by proxy. The state-operated Mountain Experiment station—founded more than 30 years ago on a 316-acre tract—is not only showing rural residents how to guard against serious financial setbacks but also is pointing out innumerable ways and means of multiplying returns from crops and livestock.

that give milk from cows that eat it a richer, creamier color. Tests with various kinds of fertilizer have revealed that by using a certain type fertilizer on pasture lands an acre can be made to support "a cow and a half." Without fertilizer, four to five acres usually are required to pasture a single cow. TRY THE SALEM NEWS

New Hope Is Held For Sufferers of Shell Shock Ills

(By United Press)
MONTREAL — Shell shock and other forms of war neurosis are largely curable, Lieut-Col. Colin K. Russell, neuro-psychiatric counsel of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, told a meeting of the Montreal Neurological society.
The opinion was concurred in by Dr. J. P. S. Cathcart, chief neuro-psychiatrist of the department of pensions and national health, Ottawa.
Cathcart said a study of combatant units in the last war had shown that morale and efficiency were reflected in a low state of "sick-wastage" from casual illness and so-called shell shock. In the same manner, he explained, "shell shock" was seen not so much in association with, or as a result of injury, but as a reflection of lowered morale of the unit or of the individual, the latter often having a "dissatisfied" life background.
"In any case," both doctors agreed, "the condition is essentially curable, provided the original handicaps are not too formidable and unwise hospitalization or compensation is not instituted or prolonged."

Finnish Target of Russian Planes on Border

Here is a view of Viborg, Finland, close to the Soviet border, which was the target of a Soviet air raid following outbreak of hostilities between the two countries after a stalemate had been reached in Russian demands. Incendiary bombs were dropped here by the Russians.

Allies Are Seizing Tons Of Gas Destined for German Air Force

(By International News Service)
LONDON—Representing a silent victory of the air, the British contraband control and the French navy have already seized more than 100,000 tons of gasoline destined for the German air force.
The 24,000,000 gallons of gasoline involved in the seizure is a definite blow to German air power as will be seen in the following:
A twin-engined bomber in the 250-300 m.p.h. class has two engines each developing 1,000 h.p.
An aero motor consumes at least half a pint of gasoline for every horse power during each hour of flight. With the engine throttled back to about two-thirds power, a twin engined bomber uses 80 gallons of gas an hour.
Heavy Gas Consumption
During an hour's flight, a formation of fifty bombers would thus consume over 4,000 gallons of gasoline.
It would take a bomber heavily loaded with gas and high explosives up to six hours to reach England.
Thus a raid in which 50 bombers took part would require not less than 100,000 gallons.
The 100,000 tons captured by the allies therefore would be sufficient for three aerial raids a day for a year.
With the allies preparing for a long war and with Germany's desperate dependence on imported fuel

New Hope Is Held For Sufferers of Shell Shock Ills

(By United Press)
MONTREAL—Shell shock and other forms of war neurosis are largely curable, Lieut.-Col. Colin K. Russell, neuro-psychiatric counsel of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, told a meeting of the Montreal Neurological society.

The opinion was concurred in by Dr. J. P. S. Cathcart, chief neuro-psychiatrist of the department of pensions and national health, Ottawa.

Cathcart said a study of combatant units in the last war had shown that morale and efficiency were reflected in a low state of "sick-wastage" from casual illness and so-called shell shock. In the same manner, he explained, that "shell shock" was seen not so much in association with, or as a result of, injury, but as a reflection of lowered morale of the unit or of the individual, the latter often having a "dissatisfied" life background.

In any case, both doctors agreed, "the condition is essentially curable, provided the original handicaps are not too formidable and unwise hospitalization or compensation is not instituted or prolonged."

Finnish Target of Russian Planes on Border

Here is a view of Viborg, Finland, close to the Soviet border, which was the target of a Soviet air raid following outbreak of hostilities between the two countries after a stalemate had been reached in Russian demands. Incendiary bombs were dropped here by the Russians.

Allies Are Seizing Tons Of Gas Destined for German Air Force

(By International News Service)
LONDON—Representing a silent victory of the air, the British contraband control and the French navy have already seized more than 100,000 tons of gasoline destined for the German air force.

The 24,000,000 gallons of gasoline involved in the seizure is a definite blow to German air power as will be seen in the following.

A twin-engined bomber in the 250-300 m.p.h. class has two engines each developing 1,000 h.p. An aero motor consumes at least half a pint of gasoline for every horse power during each hour of flight. With the engine throttled back to about two-thirds power, a twin-engined bomber uses 80 gallons of gas an hour.

Heavy Gas Consumption
During an hour's flight, a formation of fifty bombers would thus consume over 4,000 gallons of gasoline.

It would take a bomber heavily loaded with gas and high explosives up to six hours to reach England.

Thus a raid in which 50 bombers took part would require not less than 100,000 gallons.

The 100,000 tons captured by the allies therefore would be sufficient for three aerial raids a day for a year.

With the allies preparing for a long war and with Germany's desperate dependence on imported fuel the seizure of the gasoline is considered to be a powerful blow to Germany.

ACUSHNET, Mass.—Mrs. Florence Jeggatt started a button collection and already has 3,000 different specimens neatly mounted on cardboard discs. Some are gifts, other family heirlooms and the rest were found in obscure places.

'Home To Mother' Policy is Followed By British Brides

(By International News Service)
LONDON—"Home to mother" is the policy of present day brides in Britain.

Coming to the war and men being married only a few weeks are leaving their furniture while the bride goes home to mother and the husband goes to do his bit.

Although many men are stationed in Britain with the balloon barrage defense and anti-aircraft defense, they are not allowed to leave their station, even if only a few hours from home, until they are ordered to do so.

The head of a leading furniture company said that he had not found room for all the furniture he has been asked to store.

Back round some of the war-time would break your heart if you were given to sentimentality."

Little group, you would see new pieces of furniture recently were the treasures of newly married girl.

Others Have Problems

The newly-weds are not the only ones with problems however.

Many wives and husbands-to-be are also beset with difficulties. Furniture, linen and other household articles have increased in price as much as 33 per cent.

One factor is met at the register office, which is the most popular place for weddings at present.

One girl arrived at a register office to give notice. Asked the name of her future husband, she said: "His name is Larry."

He asked her to marry him last night.

When pressed for further details she admitted that she did not know any further particulars.

Another instance was when a man knew only his fiancée's Christian name.

Odd Auto Ordinances Are Listed by Club

CHICAGO—The Chicago Motor Club has listed complaints against peculiar traffic regulations they describe as "slightly outmoded."

Of these regulations include:

Misleading ordinance which prohibits motorists from parking their cars more than an hour unless a notice is attached to it.

Nebraska's law forbidding camels on the main highways.

Ohio's rule against riding a jackass at a rate in excess of 6 miles an hour.

The Monmouth, Ore., prohibition

Linda Darnell, starlet who received rave notices following her first film appearance in Elsa Maxwell's "Hotel for Women", turns in the best performance of the picture in "Daytime Wife" which shows tonight and Saturday at the State.

Tyrone Power, Wendy Barrie, Warren William and Binnie Barnes have supporting roles in the gay comedy about a young married couple who find themselves drifting apart after two years of married life. A pretty secretary is one reason for the drifting, so the wife becomes a secretary to a business associate of her husband to find out why secretaries are more attractive than wives.

Dialogue is excellent, lifting a mediocre story into the class of good comedy. The roles are well handled by the entire cast.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday is a new western, "Okla-homa Frontier", featuring John Mack Brown, Bob Baker and Fuzzy Knight.

Furniture, linen and other household utensils have increased in price by as much as 33 percent.

Chief factors are met at the register office, which is the most popular place for weddings at present.

One girl arrived at a register office to give notice. Asked the name of her future husband, she said:

"His name is Larry. He asked me to marry him last night."

When pressed for further details she admitted that she did not know any further particulars.

Another instance was when a man knew only his fiancée's Christian name.

Odd Auto Ordinances Are Listed by Club

CHICAGO—The Chicago Motor club has filed complaints against various traffic regulations they describe as "slightly outmoded."

Chief citations include:

Milwaukee's ordinance which prohibits motorists from parking their cars more than an hour unless a horse is attached to it.

Nevada's law forbidding camels on the main highways.

Ohio's rule against riding a jack-ass at a rate in excess of 6 miles an hour.

The Monmouth, Ore., prohibition

U.S. Navy Stresses Fact That Big Ships are Undermanned

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON—The authorized increase of navy personnel from 107,550 to 110,000 men is inadequate in that it permits manning of large warships at only 85 per cent of full strength. Acting Secretary of the Navy Charles A. Edison informed President Roosevelt in his annual report.

The nation's seapower, Edison said, should be bolstered by more fighting ships manned at full war strength. Stressing the need for men, he stated:

"While the 85 per cent allowance is sufficient for the peacetime requirements of certain types of combatant ships, the total personnel is inadequate in experienced men to provide for mobilization of the fleet. The department must maintain mobilization plans which contemplate the complete and efficient manning of useful combatant ships, now in full commission, in reduced commission, or out of commission, in addition to many auxiliary vessels that will be obtained from the merchant marine."

Officer Increase Asked
Other steps urged by Edison included:

1. Increase of line officers personnel from 7,562 to 8,671.
2. Increase of pay and allowances for navy personnel, which are "inadequate" and occasioning "hardship and suffering" in view of higher scales in other government branches.
3. Continuation of fleet maneuvers annually because "they are of the utmost value in training personnel."

Edison noted improved health conditions among personnel, and said that there had been a 31 per cent decrease in aviation accidents during the year despite the increased scope of naval flying activities.

The report showed that the navy spent $1,019,092,893 during the 1939 fiscal year. It operated 15 battleships, 18 heavy cruisers, 18 light cruisers, 121 destroyers and light mine layers, 58 submarines, fire aircraft carriers, one mine layer, 12 patrol vessels, and 100 auxiliaries during the period.

Jap Ruler Visits His Troops

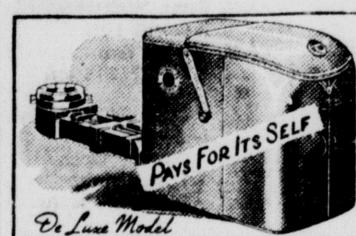

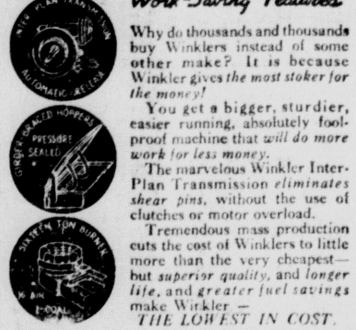

The Emperor of Japan listens to a report on the southern forces, as he attends army maneuvers at the foot of Mt. Fuji. Japan continues to train troops for the protracted war in China, hoping the European war will halt the flow of arms and supplies to the defending forces.

LONDON, Ont. — Experienced farm hands are in demand once more in this area. And it's all due to the war. More than a dozen farmers have posted notices for help at employment bureaus, reporting "hired hands" have quit to join the army.

JACKSONVILLE, Ala.—Jacksonville state teachers college does all right by its graduates. Dr. C. W. Daughette said that every graduate of the college's 1939 class has obtained employment.

GRAY DIRECTORY

Distribution of the new GRAY telephone directories will be completed by Saturday noon. If you do not receive yours please phone our business office at once.

HOW TO DIAL

● Complete dialing information appears in the front of your new GRAY directory. Be sure to read it carefully. It will save you confusion. Dialing is EASY, but first you must know how. A few simple dialing rules follow, but by all means, read the complete dialing information in the front of your GRAY directory.

A FEW SIMPLE RULES FOR DIALING

- 1 Obtain the NEW telephone number from the GRAY directory.
- 2 Lift the receiver and listen for the dial tone, a steady humming sound.
- 3 When you hear the tone, start dialing.
- 4 In dialing each figure, turn the dial to the finger stop. Then release it quickly, allowing it to return without interference.
- 5 Listen for the ringing signal (a soft "brr brr") or the busy signal (a rapid "buzz buzz").
- 6 If the line is busy or you make a mistake in dialing be sure to hang up before you dial again.

WHEN TO DIAL THE OPERATOR

- 1 For all long distance calls, dial the operator.
- 2 For numbers not listed in the directory dial the operator.
- 3 For Fire and Police or other emergency calls, if you cannot find the number quickly, dial the operator.
- 4 If you have trouble in dialing, dial the operator. She will assist you.
- 5 To call another party on your own party line, either city or rural, refer to the initial pages of your new gray directory.

"KNIGHT ERRANT"

by Jack McDonald

CHAPTER XXIV

On this warm summer evening Slim and Edith idled over after dinner coffee in her suite at the historic Grand Union, a monument to a now decadent aristocracy and relic of crinoline days.

Through the open windows drifted the buzzing sound of humanity, gathered together at a fever peak of excitement, a sound heard only where men and women gather together to watch horses run.

"I love that sound. I love it in London before Derby night. In Louisville at the opening of Epsom Downs, in Auteuil—Slim, you would adore the excitement of France during the races there! But I think Saratoga gives me more thrills through twenty-four hours of day and night, all the time I'm here, than the Riviera could in a year."

"Saratoga is my favorite track. Which is yours, Slim?"

Slim saw an opening and dove for it.

"My favorite is California. Belmont has the most class—real New York style. Saratoga has the most tradition. Santa Anita the most swank."

Edith was looking at him, her dark eyes suddenly wide with amused comprehension.

"So you'll take—"

"Tonight, and some more coffee," grinned Slim. "Make it a small cup, Edith, we'll have to hurry or be late to the sales. Maybe we'll discover another Knight Errant."

But Edith flushed with displeasure. She was silent. Slim recognized the coolness Edith always showed at the mention of Knight Errant.

"She's jealous—jealous of a horse!" he thought. Women were baffling creatures.

Moments later they were driving down the avenue of elms flanking Saratoga's Broadway, headed for the famous annual Saratoga yearling sales where future War Admirals were to be auctioned off.

As Slim drove along, the vision of Heather, alone with Knight Errant on her Carmel Valley farm, came to him.

Only that afternoon he had received a letter from her closing with a plea that brought his thoughts of the future to an impasse. She had written:

"I saw your picture, with Edith Ashleigh and Comanche in this month's Turf and Field Gossip."

"You seemed to have a far away look in your eyes. It mocked me—California, Knight Errant, in the fall. Will October ever come? Sincerely, Heather."

Saratoga's sales were full dress affairs. Here society worshipped for a night at the throne of King Horse on an infield that was a magic carpet of green, bathed with over-eid lights and under a canopy of stars.

Diamonds made him blink as his eyes sought the same circle where Man o'War had stood twenty years before, an ugly duckling, bought for a virtual song, later to earn millions for Sam Riddle, his purchaser.

With a mingling of awe and admiration Slim saw Edith drawn out, ruthlessly, opponents in the bidding, when some colt caught her expert fancy.

A black yearling was led out and Edith asked Slim's advice.

"He has racy looking legs," he counseled, checking an impulse to add that they reminded him of Knight Errant's. Slim's few words of encouragement were all Edith needed to touch off a wild buying urge. She offered $5,000, opening the bidding.

A strapping chestnut yearling was led into the ring. Bidding on him was rife. But again Edith triumphed, deluging her opposition by raising the ante to $8,000. A price no one else would meet.

"I might name it after you," Edith remarked.

"Don't do it, you'll jinx both me and the horse," Slim laughed.

With a reckless flourish of the pen Edith wrote a check for $14,000 payable to Auctioneer Trantor, who was 90 per cent of the yearling thoroughbreds in the country.

After her exciting spending orgy Edith wanted relaxation.

"That was work," she sighed. "Let's drive to The Cottage."

Admission to The Cottage was by card, but Edith's was by recognition. She had been there in other seasons and had she stopped to reflect—well, a reflection which was now shining down on her she had paid for a $60,000 chandelier, when so brilliantly lighted this modernistic gambling house, with its lavender and gold interior.

As they entered, Slim's eyes wandered longingly to the craps table, as weakness. But Edith had a weakness, too. It was roulette.

The croupier at the roulette wheel had seen Edith come in and hurriedly sent for a fresh stack of hundred dollar chips. They always took the limit off when Edith came in to play. There was a standing order to this effect.

"How many horses did we buy tonight?" Edith asked Slim.

"Twenty-one."

"I've a hunch. Twenty-one is my lucky number for this evening."

"I have a hunch, too. California will be lucky for us," Slim injected.

Edith was plainly exasperated. "Can't we forget California for one night? I want to play."

"Slim's grin was infectious. He was a dear. Edith thought, and his shoulders seemed broader than usual in his white evening jacket, smiling at them. Edith overlooked the purpose of his next words.

"I'll gamble on your gambling tonight, Edith. Be a sport. If you win tonight I'll shut up about the west. If you lose, we ship to California."

Edith laughed excitedly. "That is a gamble, Slim."

She plunged into her gaming with a lightness that contrasted with the strained features of four others at the table. They seemed to be making work out of what Edith enjoyed as play.

One more losing night at the Cottage vexed Edith not at all. She tapped at the closing hour. A clock Slim marvelled at her airiness as she pulled her summer ermine back around her shoulders and said smilingly:

"I had two strikes against me to start with, Slim. You know, I'm superstitious. I found a $2 bill in my purse this afternoon! And right after that I met a cross-eyed man."

"How much have you dropped?" asked Slim, as she left the cashier's office.

"Forty thousand," smiled Edith. And only the night before, Slim recalled, she had complained over losing a dollar and thirty-five cents in a friendly bridge game!

But Slim had won—California. He stood smiling down on her.

"How soon do we leave?"

Slim stood with Edith up forward on the deck of the ferryboat approaching San Francisco and inhaled great portions of delicious, sweeping, fog-laden air. "Isn't this air great?" he said lustily. "Boy! They should bottle fog like this and sell it for nectar."

Edith shivered and pulled her shawl up to the level of her eyes. "I would say the practical thing to do would be to cut it up in chunks and pack it away in an ice house for next summer," she countered.

"Boy! Is that a sight!" Slim chuckled as a rift in the fog revealed San Francisco's skyline. As the boat neared the pier Slim's eyes searched eagerly as if looking for someone in the waiting throng.

"There she is—there's Heather!" he cried, waving back.

"Heather? How did she know—" began Edith, looking at Slim as though she thought this incredible.

"I wired her from Omaha."

"Oh," Edith said with a triple inflection that plainly revealed her surprise.

So this, thought Edith suddenly, was why Slim was so eager to return to California—for a girl, not a horse.

The ferry docked. The gates swung up and Heather rushed eagerly to greet Slim.

"Oh, Slim, I'm so glad to see you! I knew you'd hurry back," she bubbled excitedly.

And in her joy over Slim's return she was even prepared to greet Edith warmly. But—

"How are things on the farm?" Edith inquired, pleasantly enough, to be sure, but with an emphasis on the "farm" that was challenging.

Heather sought to meet Edith's barb, but before she could stammer a retaliatory word a squad of cameramen pounced upon Edith. They were a welcome relief to Slim.

"I want a word with you, young lady," he said, edging Heather behind a small mountain of luggage.

Edith was beckoning.

"Come, Slim," Edith said, much in the manner of a woman speaking to her poodle dog. "You must be in this."

The cameramen raised their eyes at Slim and then exchanged "tragic glances" among themselves.

After photographing Edith and Slim, at the former's request, the cameramen whisked Edith to a waiting limousine, where she could be snapped solo.

While Edith posed, Slim listened to Heather's revelations of a recent Knight Errant, ready to go back and conquer the world after a long rest in the lush pastures of her Carmel Valley farm.

The two were so absorbed in each other that they were not aware Edith had joined them.

"Knight Errant? He's looking marvelous. So nice and fat," Heather enthused.

"Fat?" Slim asked, startled. "I'll take a run down to Carmel tomorrow and have a look."

"But that's impossible, Slim," Edith broke in sternly. "With so much to be done at the stables, Comanche will need a jogging up after his long trip, and—" Edith detailed a flock of petty errands, things she never before bothered her head about and Slim knew she was deliberately intervening to keep him from going to Carmel.

"Some other time, perhaps," she said, smiling at Heather in a patronizing way.

Heather dropped with dismay. Slim patted her on the shoulder.

"Anyway," he comforted Heather, "I'll be down soon."

"I had two strikes against me to start with, Slim. You know, I'm superstitious. I found a $2 bill in my purse this afternoon! And right after that I met a cross-eyed man."

"How much have you dropped?" asked Slim, as she left the cashier's office.

"Forty thousand," smiled Edith. And only the night before, Slim recalled, she had complained over losing a dollar and thirty-five cents in a friendly bridge game!

But Slim had won—California. He stood smiling down on her.

"How soon do we leave?"

Slim stood with Edith up forward on the deck of the ferryboat approaching San Francisco and inhaled great portions of delicious, sweeping, fog-laden air. "Isn't this air great?" he said lustily. "Boy! They should bottle fog like this and sell it for nectar!"

Edith shivered and pulled her sebies up to the lobes of her ears. "I would say the practical thing to do would be to cut it up in chunks and pack it away in an ice house for next summer," she countered.

"Boy! Is that a sight!" Slim enthused as a rift in the fog revealed San Francisco's skyline. As the boat neared the pier Slim's eyes searched eagerly as if looking for someone in the waiting throng.

"There she is—there's Heather!" he cried, waving back.

"Heather? How did she know—" began Edith, looking at Slim as though she thought this incredible. "I wired her from Omaha."

"Oh," Edith said with a triple infection that plainly revealed her assurance.

So this, thought Edith suddenly, was why Slim was so eager to return to California—for a girl, not a horse.

The ferry docked. The gates swung up and Heather rushed eagerly to greet Slim.

"Oh, Slim, I'm so glad to see you. I knew you'd hurry back," she bubbled excitedly.

And in her joy over Slim's return she was even prepared to greet Edith warmly. But....

"How are things on the farm?" Edith inquired, pleasantly enough, to be sure, but with an emphasis on the "farm" that was challenging.

Heather sought to meet Edith's barb, but before she could stammer a retaliatory word a squad of cameramen pounced upon Edith. They were a welcome relief to Slim.

"I want a word with you, young lady," he said, edging Heather behind a small mountain of luggage. But Edith was beckoning.

"Come, Slim," Edith said, much in the manner of a woman speaking to her poodle dog. "You must be in this."

The cameramen raised their eyes at Slim and then exchanged "trade glances" among themselves.

After photographing Edith and Slim, at the former's request, the cameramen whisked Edith to a waiting limousine, where she could be snapped solo.

While Edith posed, Slim listened to Heather's revelations of a recent Knight Errant, ready to go back and conquer the world after a long rest in the lush pastures of her Carmel Valley farm.

The two were so absorbed in each other that they were not aware Edith had joined them.

"Knight Errant? He's looking marvelous. So nice and fat," Heather continued.

"Fat?" Slim asked, startled. "I'll take a run down to Carmel tomorrow and have a look."

"But that's impossible, Slim," Edith broke in sternly. "With so much to be done at the stables, Comanche will need a jogging up after his long trip, and—" Edith detailed a flock of petty errands, things she never before bothered her head about and Slim knew she was deliberately intervening to keep him from going to Carmel.

"Some other time, perhaps," she said, smiling at Heather in a patronizing way.

Heather drooped with dismay. Slim patted her on the shoulder.

"Anyway," he comforted Heather, "I'll be down soon."

COLUSA, Cal. — Postmaster R. G. Power would like to find the constructor who built the local postoffice. But for him, the office's record would have been perfect. In 15 years of operation and the handling of 7,500,000 pieces of mail, only two were lost. This was discovered when the two missing pieces, mailed in 1932, were found between the wall and the mail slot owing to a flaw in the construction.

OTTAWA—Well past the "three-score and ten" mark, Canada's most famous "padre," Archbishop P. S. Scott, C.M.G., D.S.O., has offered his services to the army once again. The distinguished Montreal cleric is a lieutenant-colonel in the chaplain service.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Approximately one million quail will be bagged by Illinois hunters during the coming season, opening Nov. 15. Thomas J. Lynch, director of conservation, predicts. All suitable areas have been heavily stocked with birds.

BISBEE, Ariz.—Rattlesnake meat is becoming a delicacy in this state. It can now be purchased canned in local stores. Recently a Boy Scout company preferred to kill and cook its own rattlesnakes.
